BOW TO PRESIDENT

Letter to Roosevelt From Union Chief Promises to Submit Views Later

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Bowling to the request of President Roosevelt, railroad labor unions today agreed to accept the proffer of assistance of Federal Coordinator of Transportation Joseph Eastman in settling their disputes with the carriers.

Their stand was made known in a letter to President Roosevelt from A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' association.

They did, however, decline to enter into further discussions at this time with the carriers' representatives.

Whitney's letter said in part: "We share your disappointment that some agreement has not been reached.

"However, the economic plight of the employees does not allow them to submit to the demands of the carriers.

"We accept your proffer of the federal coordinator of transportation."

The letter to the president also contained a promise to keep him advised of developments and later submit further views.

Attached to the letter to Mr. Roosevelt was a letter to W. F. Thieshoff, chairman of the conference committee of managers. In it Whitney wrote that "it is evident nothing can be gained at this time by further discussion between our respective committees."

No time was fixed for conferences with Eastman.

SCHOOL BONDS ARE DEFEATED IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(UP)—Los Angeles school children were committed to an indefinite "term" in tented classrooms today following the refusal of voters to endorse a proposed $20,411,497 bond issue for the rehabilitation of schools damaged or destroyed in the 1933 earthquake.

Virtually complete returns from yesterday's special election disclosed the vote fell considerably short of the required two-thirds majority.

BAND OF SPIES IS CAUGHT IN PRAGUE

BERLIN, March 21.—(UP)—A news agency dispatch from Prague, Czechoslovakia, today said that a highly organized band of 25 spies, posing as immigrants, had been arrested.

The dispatch said it was reported that the chief of the band was a Dr. Riegelhaupt, and that its activities were in behalf of "a northern neighbor." Poland, Russia and Germany border Czechoslovakia on the north.

STATE CWA TO BE DISBANDED ON MARCH 30

Complete Demobilization is Ordered by Federal Administrator

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—(UP)—Complete demobilization of the Federal Civil Works Administration for California on March 30 has been ordered by Captain Edward Macaulay, administrator for California.

This step was taken in order to clear the way for the new work program which will be inaugurated after April 1. Approximately 65,000 CWA workers will be affected by this order, it was revealed. That number of workers will remain on the CWA rolls after the final scheduled end, made March 30.

The new program, directed by the Work Division of the State Employment Relief Administration, will swing into action about April 15, Captain Macaulay announced.

The SERA Work Division, in order to eliminate the many fallacies which appeared in the original CWA setup, will start work gradually. In order that proper projects might be prepared for the inauguration of the new program five assistant engineers have been sent into the field for a complete survey. F. B. Cross is the engineer in charge of Southern and South-eastern California.

DOHENY REPORTED AS SERIOUSLY ILL

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(UP)—Edward L. Doheny, named two days ago as defendant in a $2,252,861 recovery suit by the federal government, was reported in a serious condition at his home here today.

The 75-year-old multimillionaire oil operator was said to be suffering from a complication of ailments. Because of his weakened condition, news of the suit has been withheld from him. The action seeks recovery of profits he realized from allegedly fraudulent oil leases.

Late News Flashes

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—The railroad executives late today joined with union forces in accepting President Roosevelt's tender of the services of the coordinator of transportation to help compose differences on wages.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A $165,000,000 program to limit the national milk supply was submitted to the dairy industry today by the farm administration.

Adoption depends upon acceptance by the industry.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—The Vinson navy bill, authorizing the president to build the fleet up to treaty strength, was sent back to conference with the senate by the house today.

U. S. Control Of Aviation Is Proposed

Brig. Gen. Mitchell Appears at House Hearing Today on Airmail Bill

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Control of all aviation under one federal agency was urged by Brig. Gen. William Mitchell today as essential if aviation development "is to be taken out of the hands of the money lenders."

"If the government is going to spend money on aviation in the interest of private lines in part it should see to it that real results are obtained and that the money is not used for gambling by speculators," Mitchell said.

He testified before the house post office committee considering permanent airmail legislation and admitted he favored, under strict federal control, continuance of airmail subsidies to private lines.

Mitchell, chief of the AEP air force, said however, that "there is a question in my mind whether the airmail shouldn't be carried by the government."

He blamed "boneheadedness" by war department officials for what he termed the inefficiency of air corps flying equipment.

Mitchell asserted that since 1926 aviation development had been in the hands of "various holding companies" which were not interested in proper development of commercial planes.

"Every other large country is further advanced in aviation than the United States," said the flier. "If we went to war tomorrow we would have to buy our planes in Europe."

"The aircraft developed commercially are not proper for their work—commercial lines are not able, nor do they have a desire to equip aircraft properly. They lack proper automatic pilots, safety devices and other equipment which long ago should have been considered necessary."

FACTORY PAYROLLS IN STATE IN GAIN

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(UP)—Factory payroll in California gained nearly 30 per cent last month over February of the preceding year, according to the monthly business survey today of the research department of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

The index showed a 6 per cent gain over January.

Manufacturing employment figures were up 26 1-2 per cent for the year and 3 per cent above January levels, the report disclosed.

Department store sales, one of the principal barometers of general business, enjoyed an average increase of 7 per cent over a year ago. Los Angeles stores gained 12 per cent, San Francisco and Oakland, 10 1-2 per cent, and Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley stores, 21 1-2 per cent.

AD VALOREM TAX IS PROPOSED IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 21.—(UP)—Imposition of an ad valorem tax on general property, to bring the state general fund even with expenditures, probably will be opposed by the members of the state board of control, despite an estimated deficit of $23,000,000 which will be faced at the end of the fiscal year.

Controller Ray L. Riley said he would oppose the tax on the ground the financial situation did not warrant placing an additional burden on taxpayers before the next legislature has an opportunity to devise some other method of balancing the budget.

He does not consider the treasury condition critical, and feels the state may continue registering warrants, pending the legislative session next January.

AMERICANS IN SPY RING MAY ESCAPE PRISON

Robert Switz and Wife May Be Freed for Confessing Activities

PARIS, March 21.—(UP)—Robert and Marjorie Switz, young Americans held as principals in the greatest espionage plot ever uncovered, may escape prison because of their revelation of the ring's activities in France, England and the United States, it was said today.

A law, passed in 1886, makes it possible to grant pardons to suspected spies who confess and implicate others before they are brought to trial.

Andre Moise, chief counsel for the young married couple, told the United Press he had advised them to talk frankly.

Secret service men found five suit cases and two brief cases filled with documents at the home of two men implicated by the Americans—Colonel Du Moulin, grand officer of the Legion of Honor, and a man named Aubry, an engineer attached to the army powder service.

They planned to examine the documents today and also to explore Aubry's safe deposit box. They had little doubt that further arrests would result.

Great secrecy was maintained as to investigations understood to be proceeding in Great Britain and the United States. It had been announced that evidence on which police had been working for eight months even before the arrest of the Switzes and other suspects in December was obtained only with the aid of American and British espionage experts.

The secret service announced officially that the suspects were charged with espionage in behalf of Germany and Soviet Russia. Russian authorities promptly denied any knowledge of the ring, and a similar denial was expected from Berlin.

MISSOURI FARMERS FIGHT RELIEF PLAN

MARYVILLE, Mo., March 21.—(UP)—Farm unrest, which found expression here a year ago in militant demonstrations against mortgage foreclosures, today threatened to flare against the "new deal" relief setup.

Farmers are so resentful of appraisal policies of federal farm credit agencies they are organizing "pitchfork leagues."

The first step in the renewed agrarian revolt is scheduled for next Saturday when a mass meeting will be held at State Teachers college. The cause of resentment is the alleged policy of the federal farm credit agencies of "ridiculously low appraisals and ruthless foreclosures."

JAPAN SEEKS SETTLEMENT OF FAR EASTERN QUESTIONS IN DIPLOMATIC CONVERSATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—The Japanese government has inaugurated direct diplomatic conversations with the United States in an effort to bring about an immediate amicable settlement of all far eastern questions pending between this country and Japan, it was officially revealed today.

The diplomatic conversations, which were started just a month ago, were revealed today with the simultaneous publication in Tokyo and Washington of the texts of messages exchanged between the Japanese foreign minister, Koki Hirota, and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Two impending international events impelled the Japanese foreign office to seek such a settlement at an early date, in the opinion of informed observers here. These are:

1. The forthcoming naval conference which is scheduled to be called in 1935, at which it is anticipated Japan will ask for a larger naval ratio than is allotted her under the Washington and London naval treaties;

2. The possibility of war between Japan and Russia, which many authorities believe may break out within the next few months.

The messages are so cautiously worded that careful reading is necessary to detect the importance of the subject matter.

The Japanese foreign minister expressed the desire to confine these conversations regarding far eastern matters to representatives of Japan and the United States. He made no suggestion of calling in other powers.

Hull, replying, expressed the "earnest hope that it may be possible for all of the countries which have interests in the far east to participate in such conversations," but said he would always be glad to receive from Japan "any suggestions calculated to maintain and increase" friendly relations.

Hirota's message dated Feb. 21, declared emphatically that Japan "has no intention whatever to provoke and make trouble with any other power." This was considered a direct allusion to the Russo-Japanese situation.

CONFEREES ON VETERANS' AID FAIL TO AGREE

Senate Refuses to Back Up on Pay Cut Restoration and Increases

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Conferees on the veterans' and government workers' pay bill today broke up in disagreement on these two items, sending the measure back to the house for further action.

House conferees, Sen. James F. Byrnes, D. S. C., said, took the position that they could not recede as the counter-proposal they had to offer to the senate proposal to write high increases into these two sections had been voted by the house.

Senate conferees took the position they also had been instructed to stand by their guns and could not recede.

All other sections of the bill were agreed to by the conferees with the house receding, leaving but the two sections in controversy.

The breakup left the future of the legislation in doubt. President Roosevelt had indicated that he will veto the measure if the additional $350,000,000 written into the bill by the senate for pay and benefit increases are kept.

By one vote, the house leadership induced the house to accept a counter amendment which cut down the senate figure but leaving a sum of such sizeable proportion it was still indefinite whether the White House would accept it in view of its strain on the budget.

Byrnes, following the conference, remarked:

"The house took the position it had been instructed and could not recede. They were instructed by a one vote margin and we were instructed by a vote of 65 to 15. We couldn't recede but the member who cast the one vote in the house might change his mind."

CLOSE LAST RESORT ON BARBARY COAST

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 21.—(UP)—Hopes of Barbary Coast resort operators that they may be permitted to resume sales of wine and beer went glimmering today when the state board of equalization revoked the license of the Dragon and closed the last of the Barbary Coast cases.

Action against the Dragon resulted from a demand of the San Francisco police that no liquor licenses be issued any establishment operating in the Pacific street block that retained some of the old coast atmosphere.

LINCOLN ELLSWORTH PLANS NEW FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(UP)—Plans for a second flight across the antarctic were discussed here today by Lincoln Ellsworth, noted polar explorer, and his chief pilot, Bernt Balchen.

Balchen returned yesterday from Australia with the plane that was damaged on their first expedition when crushed between a moving ice pack. With him came his copilot, Chris Braathen.

Balchen and Ellsworth said they hoped to have the plane repaired for a second expedition next October. The explorers hope to obtain valuable information on geological, geodetic and meteorological conditions in the antarctic.

Borah Hurls Charges Of "Feudalism"

Declares Combines Taking Away All Advances Made By Recovery Act

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Immediate revision of the steel code and restoration of the anti-trust laws to protect consumers, labor and small business men were demanded by Senator William E. Borah, R., Idaho, today on the grounds they were needed to counteract the wave of labor unrest threatening the country.

Borah's remarks were inspired by findings of the federal trade commission which held the steel code permitted restoration of once forbidden practices including the Pittsburgh plus system of prices.

"If the steel companies are engaged in these practices under the codes there is no doubt in my mind that any other businesses are doing likewise," Borah said, speaking from the floor.

"It seems to me it should be a matter of supreme concern to those engaged in making a success of the recovery program to see how these things can be done away with."

"There is a restlessness throughout the entire labor world today and I am convinced that it will manifest itself more generally as time goes along.

"These combines, trusts, and monopolies manage to take away from labor every advance in wages that is gained. Almost everything utilized in food, in clothing and in home building is subject to these monopolistic practices and monopolistic control."

Borah said he would seek action on his bill which would restore to the National Recovery act the anti-trust laws which were lifted at the time of its passage.

An "almost complete scheme" exists to do away with the small business man, Borah charged.

"I make my protest against what amounts to practice of economic feudalism."

"Certainly there should be a re-drafting of the steel code. No facts are needed further than this report.

"The other remedy with which congress has to do is to restore anti-trust laws and permit their enforcement just to halt such practices as these."

LAFOLLETTE LOSES FIGHT ON SURTAXES

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Defeated in the senate finance committee, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, R., Wis., said today he would carry to the floor of the senate his fight to impose higher surtaxes and estate taxes.

LaFollette said he would not attempt to get committee approval of his estate tax plan. His proposed amendment to the revenue bill would increase maximum surtax rates to 77 per cent on incomes in excess of $1,000,000, was defeated in the committee, 13 to 5.

The United Press learned that the vote on the LaFollette amendment, taken in secret executive session yesterday, was as follows:

Opposed—King, George, Barkley, Gore, Longman, Byrd, McAdoo, Reed, Keyes, Metcalf, Hastings, Walcott and Harrison.

For the amendment—Connally, Costigan, Clark, Couzens, LaFollette.

LITTLE HOPE HELD BY SILVER BACKERS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Congressional silver leaders privately admit little hope of passing this session any of the sweeping legislation they have sponsored to put silver back into the monetary picture.

Faced with the administration's edict against such legislation pending a thorough investigation of the monetary issue, they were pushing today the Dies bill which carries only a partial remonetization program.

The Dies bill, now before the senate agriculture committee, would permit silver up to a total of $1,600,000,000 in world market price value to be received in payment for agricultural exports. The inducement offered to the purchasers would be a 10 to 25 per cent premium above the world price of silver.

CONFERENCE WITH AUTO CHIEFS HELD

Manufacturers' Committee Meets President; Workers Talk on Thursday

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—The conference between President Roosevelt and the representatives of the automobile manufacturers in an effort to avert a nationwide strike in the industry was concluded at 4:45 p. m. today.

The motor executives were tight-lipped and grim as they left the White House. They declined to answer a single question.

"President Roosevelt will have a statement," one of them remarked.

"They would not say whether their conferences with the president were ended or whether they would meet again tomorrow."

At the conclusion of the conference the White House issued the following statement:

"The meeting today with the automobile manufacturers canvassed the situation from the employers' side and the president asked for information on many points.

"A similar meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, with representatives of labor organizations in the automotive industry, including President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and William Collins, national representative American Federation of Labor."

NOTED SCREEN ACTRESS DIES IN NEW YORK

Lilyan Tashman Passes as Result of Relapse After Operation

NEW YORK, March 21.—(UP)—Lilyan Tashman, motion picture star, died in Doctor's hospital today, attaches reported.

Miss Tashman suffered a relapse from an operation performed five days ago for what was said to be "an advanced tumorous condition."

Her husband, Edmund Lowe, also a well known screen star, was at the bedside.

Miss Tashman had been under constant medical supervision since an operation last year, according to A. J. Gertenbach, resident manager of the hospital.

"Despite untold suffering, she persisted in fulfilling her obligations and pursuing her career," he said. "During the filming of her last picture, she was under constant medical and nursing care and was only able to complete her role by her strong will power."

Death, according to Gertenbach, occurred at 2:15 p. m.

Rushed to Hospital

He said that the actress and her husband had decided upon a rest and vacation after she had completed her last picture. They planned to go to a Connecticut resort, but on March 15, her condition became so acute that she was rushed to the hospital and an immediate operation performed.

"Miss Tashman's condition was so advanced," the manager said, "that we decided that only 'palliative' procedures could be carried out."

As Miss Tashman died newspapers were on the street here with the review of "Wine, Women and Song," in which she plays the role of a blond burlesque queen. Critic

Junior High School Boy Crushed Under Heavy Truck

HITCHHIKER THROWN FROM BIKE TO DEATH

Marshall Pierce, 16, 1002 Mabury street, was killed on East Seventeenth street about 7 o'clock last night when his bicycle overturned and threw him under a truck driven by Marshall Newton Taylor, 30, Los Angeles, driver for the Southern California Freight company.

Young Pierce and several other boys were returning from a Boy Scout meeting at Tustin on their bicycles. Pierce was hanging on the right side of the trailer and Glenn Bunkeman of Tustin was being pulled on the left side while Gene McCarter of Tustin was riding slightly behind the truck. When Pierce's bicycle hit a rut on the side of the road, he was thrown over the handlebars directly beneath the wheels of the heavy vehicle and had his head crushed.

Taylor told Coroner Earl Abbey that he felt a bump and thought his trailer had broken loose. He stopped at once and just as Richard Howland, 220 East Bishop street, driving behind the truck, stopped his car and both found the body of the boy. They found his flashlight in the middle of the highway, still burning. The other boys became frightened and rushed away, leaving officials no clue as to the identity of the dead boy. After considerable questioning, it was learned who the victim was.

The accident victim was a student at the Frances Willard junior high school and lived with his widowed mother, Mrs. William Pierce. His body was removed to the Winbiger funeral home, where an inquest will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Private cremation will be held Friday at 10 a. m.

The death of the boy is the twelfth in the county this year from traffic accidents, three more at this time last year. Five persons were injured at 1:40 p. m. yesterday when cars driven by Paul Troester, 21, 248 North Cleveland street, Orange, and Mrs. Nellie Dayton, 608 Highland street, collided at Highland and Main streets. Those hurt were Merle Wilson, 18, 628 South Grand avenue, Orange, who was treated at the Santa Ana Valley hospital for cuts about the face; Mrs. Paul Troester, 1111 East First street, Paul Troester, Mrs. Dayton and Miss Mable Horning, who lives with Mrs. Dayton. According to police reports, the Dayton machine was turning left off of Main street when struck by the Troester car, traveling south.

HOLD SERVICES FOR STUTSMAN

Double funeral services were held yesterday in the chapel of the Winbiger Funeral home, 609 North Main street, for A. H. Stutsman, 84, pioneer resident of Tustin, and his wife, Mrs. Frances Stutsman.

Rituals of the Grand Army of the Republic of which organization he was a member, marked the services. Commitment services followed in Inglewood Park cemetery.

Mrs. Stutsman succumbed in August, 1931, but it was her wish that her interment be deferred until the death of her husband. Mr. Stutsman was born in Iowa and was one of the first presidents of the Iowa Association of Southern California. Before coming here nearly 40 years ago, he was on the bench of the district court of Burlington, Iowa, for a number of years.

PRESIDENT

J. P. Baumgartner, below, president of the Commercial National bank of Santa Ana, was unanimously elected president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce at an organization meeting of the board of directors today. He succeeds Otto R. Haan.

SECURITY BANK CAPITAL STOCK IS INCREASED

Responding to the administration's patriotic appeal to banks to increase their capital in order to improve the banking structure of the nation and thereby to benefit the general public, the board of directors of Security-First National bank has approved a plan of recapitalization along lines recommended by the government. It was announced today by Frank J. Was, manager of the large banking organization's Santa Ana branch.

Security-First National bank, tenth largest in the United States, thus becomes the eighth of the 10 leading institutions of the country to take steps to comply with the administration's appeal for general participation by all banks in the strengthening of their capital structure as one of the essential features of the recovery program.

The plan approved by the directors of this bank calls for the issuance of preferred stock in the sum of $12,000,000. It is proposed to issue and sell to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation 400,000 shares of five per cent cumulative preferred stock of $30 par value with the agreement on the part of the corporation that on any stock held by it and retired within three years the dividend rate will be four per cent.

At the same time it is proposed that the bank decrease its common capital from $30,000,000 to $24,000,000 by reducing the par value of its 1,200,000 shares of common stock from $25 to $20 per share without, however, changing the number of shares.

After the proposed changes are effected, the capital structure of Security-First National will be $48,000,000 and its reserves for contingencies $17,000,000 as compared with total capital funds of $45,000,000 and reserves for contingencies of about $8,000,000 at the last published statement.

Quoting Security-First National's president, G. M. Wallace, Mr. Was, in making this announcement, said:

"The officers and directors of the bank have given careful consideration to this subject, and the extent to which this bank should participate in the program. It is their unanimous opinion that the federal program on this subject is a constructive step, beneficial alike to the banks and to the general public, and that this bank should fully cooperate with the plan as it always has in any sound undertaking for the general good."

"There are two important elements to consider in connection with a change and increase in the capital structure of a bank particularly during a period of worldwide readjustment such as the one we are now passing through. First, the increase should be substantial enough to make provision for the normal increase in deposits which can be expected with the return of better times. Second, the opportunity offered to increase the capital of a bank by preferred stock should also be used to increase materially the bank's reserves for contingencies. This bank has very substantial reserves at the present time, but it is prudent for any bank in times like these to take this opportunity to set up extraordinary reserves to take care of write-downs and charge-offs if the need arises. If an earlier return of prosperity proves such reserves were larger than necessary, it indicates only excess caution and conservatism, and an element of added safety secured at nominal cost. If on the other hand the unsettled period should be of longer duration than expected, clearly the action taken in this regard would have been warranted."

Was also announced that the regular dividend was voted yesterday by the directors of Security-First National bank at their monthly meeting. The dividend is 66 cents per share, or at the rate of $2.66 per annum on the shares of $25 par value. It will be paid April 2 to stockholders of record on March 22.

BAUMGARTNER NEW HEAD OF BOOSTER BODY

Election of J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial National bank, as president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce featured a meeting of the board of directors today in the chamber offices in the courthouse annex.

Baumgartner succeeds Otto R. Haan, who has served as head of the chamber during the past year. C. H. Chapman was elected first vice president, Hugh J. Lowe, second vice president, and Harry Hanson, treasurer.

George A. Raymer, secretary, was reelected until July 1, 1934, the day when the fiscal year for the city ends. This move was made following considerable discussion on the necessity for consolidating the Santa Ana Merchants association with the chamber of commerce. It was brought out that this would afford time for the consolidation to be effected, and at that time it would be determined what help the city would offer to aid in the support of the chamber.

Newly elected directors of the chamber of commerce present at the session were Rodney Bacon, W. H. Spurgeon, T. E. Stephenson and W. C. Jerome. R. B. Newcom, new director, was not present at the session.

DETAILS OF TECHNOCRACY PLAN REVEALED

Explanation and discussion of a movement launched in California to make effective the major phases of Technocracy in this state through the enactment of an initiative petition featured a meeting held last night in the Willard school, sponsored by the Santa Ana Forum.

George Vail Steep, chairman of the California Division of the Committee on Technocracy and member of the national committee, gave a thorough explanation of the ideals and purposes of Technocracy.

He declared that the nation is not suffering from a depression, but from undergoing an economic revolution. He explained that Technocracy does not plan to take away private property, but on the contrary plans to make all private property more secure than it is now, and to guarantee everyone a livelihood. The movement is peaceful, he said, and the objectives can be accomplished under existing law.

He said that Technocratic research now has been taken over by the government, and that it is his belief that it will become the national policy in time. He declared that probably 90 per cent of the Technocrats in this state will vote for Upton Sinclair for governor.

The talk was preceded by a brief address by Jerri K. Steep, Los Angeles student, who declared that youth favors Technocracy because it will assure them of a place in a world, a thing almost unattainable in the present conditions.

Paul H. Burns, general counsel for the California Division, explained the initiative petition which it is planned to present at the next general election. He declared that it is essential now to replace the profit system with a system in tune with the times. Individualism as practiced in the past now has become economic anarchy, he said.

The petition he explained begins with a declaration that it is necessary for the people to own and have the right to own lands, implements and tools for the reproduction of the necessities of life for themselves.

It is planned to set up an Economic Council, one elected from each craft or professional group who will administer the law and be in charge of the Technocratic program. This council would have the authority to take over such plants, factories, buildings, lands, etc., for the benefit of the destitute. One representative from each group would be elected for each 100,000 in population. Their salaries may be paid in goods, according to the terms of the petition. Property turned over to the council would be free of taxes, he said.

Political government is absurd, he said, and it is necessary to get more business in government.

Local Briefs

Firemen rushed to 1314 West Third street at 6:39 o'clock last night in answer to a call that a baby was strangling. It was found that John Starry, six and one-half months old, had strangled while drinking from a bottle but had recovered before firemen arrived.

Following announcement from Los Angeles that independent gasoline companies were boosting prices to 10 1-2 cents per gallon, local independents said that they expected prices to be uniform at 10 1-2 and 11 1-2 cents by Friday, since some stations here were selling as low as 9.9 cents per gallon.

MOTORIST ARRESTED FOR DRIVING AFTER LICENSE SUSPENDED

Kenneth Fulmer, 21, Laguna Beach, will think twice in the future before he drives a car while his driver's license is suspended.

Fulmer was stopped on the coast highway on March 11 by California Highway Patrolman John Turton and asked to show his license. He admitted that it had been suspended when he was placed on probation nearly two years ago on a drunken driving charge.

Judge James Allen, who placed Fulmer on three years probation on July 15, 1932, issued a bench warrant yesterday and Fulmer was brought to the county jail by Undersheriff C. W. Riggle for violation of probation on a drunken driving charge. He is being held under $300 bail and will come into court on Friday.

LOU BLOCK DIES SUDDENLY WHILE DRIVING

Louie H. Block, 74, resident of Santa Ana and Garden Grove for the past 14 years, died suddenly in front of 1056 West Second street yesterday afternoon.

Death resulted from a sudden heart attack, and the resuscitator squad from the fire department, who rushed to the scene from a meeting of the El Toro club in James' cafe where they were giving a demonstration, was unable to be of assistance. He was dead before they arrived.

Considerable commotion was evident on Fourth street as the firemen, Dwight Miller and Coleman Hargett, rushed out of James' cafe after receiving the emergency call.

WILL ROGERS says:

HOLLYWOOD, March 21. (To the Editor of The Register:) Just like to show you what our cousins are doing in the way of toting the mail. "London, March 16, the British postoffice showed a profit at the end of this fiscal year, ending in February, of seventy million dollars. Last year $57,000,000 postoffice profits were applied to the reduction of Taxes." We lost 150 million a year. Who's looney now? They also run the telephone and telegraph, so when you say "a government can't run a business," you mean our government can't run it, so don't forget to put that word "our" in there. Jim, this is no reflection on you and your P. P. gang, it's on our lawmakers, who won't charge for a letter, paper, or crate of eggs what it costs to carry it, be it by plane, boat, train or mule, and charge accordingly.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PRESIDENT IN MEETING WITH AUTO MAKERS

injunction to prevent the Weirton Steel company from violating collective bargaining guarantees under the recovery act failed to halt unrest in the Weirton plants and other steel centers.

From many parts of the country came reports of strikes and threatened strikes involving thousands of workers.

Before going to the White House, the automobile manufacturers conferred for many hours in their hotel suites. They declined a statement, but indicated one might be forthcoming from the White House late in the day.

The automobile men won an initial point in their demand for a separate conference with the president. Every indication at the White House had pointed toward a combined conference with industry and labor tomorrow. The manufacturers disliked this and it was agreed the president would see them today and labor tomorrow. He made clear, however, that he expected the industrialists to remain here for possible further meetings.

ALBERT HILL, H. P.

Dr. Atwell III
In N. Y. Hospital

Dr. Francis Atwell, practicing dentist in Santa Ana for many years, is confined in the Montague hospital in New York City after a recent operation for an intestinal ailment of many years standing. He plans to return to his Laguna Beach home after his convalescence and continue his practice in Orange county, he has informed friends.

EDUCATOR SAYS NEED EXIST FOR REVOLUTION

The trouble with American education, according to Dr. Alexander Meikeljohn, former president of Amherst college, is that it teaches one code, and the students, when they go out into the world, find that the people are practicing an entirely different code.

Dr. Meikeljohn spoke last night in the auditorium of the Fullerton Union high school at the concluding session of the Orange County Forum. His topic was "Education and the Social Order."

He said that teaching today does not fit the present day social order and that one or the other must give way. Schools and colleges must change their teaching or the social order must be changed. The teaching, he said, is right and the social order is wrong.

"I do not believe," he said, "that we can have successful education in America until we have a revolution. By that I do not mean an economic revolution or even a political revolution. I do not say that those institutions must be scrapped but we must have a change in the social order so fundamental and deep that it may be termed revolutionary. It is values and beliefs that I am thinking about rather than economics and politics."

"In America we have recently had 10 or 15 million men unemployed. They and their families have suffered fear, terror and dread. It is terrible that men should suffer so great a calamity but it is a far greater calamity that we have caused ourselves through our stupidity and unfairness. We are America and we have caused this."

"I am assuming that education does not go well in America. We do not teach successfully. The job we do in the schools and colleges today is very poor. This is best illustrated by a visit to any University club. The members do not read any books worth while. They display no genuine intellectual ability. They are the same as anyone else and do no thinking."

He said that the success of the colleges have in teaching football is fearful to him. He pointed out that in a few weeks a group of students who are strangers to each other go onto the football field and in a few weeks have been turned into a smooth-running football machine. The same boys, he said, in a philosophy class are entirely different. They try to find out what the instructor wants and do that for their grades.

"The difference lies," he said, "in the fact that the American people are interested in football and not philosophy. If a college boy makes a touchdown playing football his home town has a parade. If we get him to really study philosophy the people at home think he has lost his religion."

To illustrate his opinion of what is wrong he used sports and pointed to tennis and baseball as illustrative of his point. The same boys, he said, can play each game but they do it in a different spirit. In tennis he said there is no need for an umpire. The spirit of the game is fair play and no tennis player ever takes a decision to his own advantage or unfairly. The spirit of sportsmanship prevails in tennis. The players use all their skill to defeat the other player but will cheer good plays by the opponent and congratulate him on his victory.

In baseball, he said, the same group of boys are entirely different. The umpire looks after fair play while the players do anything to win. Even the spectators assist the players in attempting to rattle the opposing team. The spirit of baseball he said is that anything goes and you get away with what you can while the umpire looks after fair play.

"The trouble with American education is that we have a tennis education and a baseball civilization. Pointing to what he declared to be the ills of the present social order, Dr. Meikeljohn said that in any magazine where 12 manufacturers of the same article advertise their product each claims that his product is "the best made." "In view of such advertising," he said, "we know that at least 11 of the advertisements are false and perhaps all of them are."

The second illustration he used was that of Einstein's first visit to America. He said that while still on the boat Einstein was approached by a man who offered him thousands of dollars to endorse a certain brand of toothpaste.

"There is no modern mind more beautiful than Einstein's," Dr. Meikeljohn said, "he is a genius and when he comes to America we want to use him as a toothpaste advertisement. That is the kind of civilization in which we try to teach."

A number of lively contests are assured. Out of the 10 high school districts, candidates in only three will be without competition.

Teed, Richfield district. The latter two filed yesterday on a six-point program in which they expressed opposition to the Valencia High school.

In a statement they brought about a marked increase in taxes; that the Valencia High school is a makeshift school. Their statement further states that "We are not members of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce nor do we owe allegiance to any member of the organization and we will not be dominated by this faction if we are elected to office."

Three in Fullerton
Three candidates are seeking the two vacancies on the Fullerton Union High school board. They are J. W. Schiller, of Buena Park, incumbent; E. R. Walker, of Yorba Linda, incumbent, and Fred Johnson, of Yorba Linda. Schiller and Walker were appointed to the board after Jack Prizer and Arthur Staley, both of the Placentia district, resigned when the Valencia High school district was formed.

Huntington Beach Union High school district has four candidates for the two vacancies. Emil Kettler, of Wintersburg, and J. C. Pyle, of Smelter, the incumbents, are seeking re-election. They are opposed by Hadley Pryor and Armand Hell, both of Midway City. Dr. Russell I. Curtis, of Orinda, the latter two incumbents, are seeking election to the two high school vacancies. Mrs. O. S. Close, incumbent, is seeking election to the grammar school board and is opposed by Mrs. Arthur Sullivan.

St. M. Doherty, incumbent, is without opposition for the vacancy on the board of the Garden Grove Union High school district. Ralph Chaffey, incumbent, is without opposition for the vacancy on the grammar school board in Garden Grove.

Harbeson Retires
Two candidates have filed for the two places on the board of the Anaheim Union High school district. They are Floyd L. Benson, incumbent, of Katella, and Robert C. Cawthon, of Cypress. Charles H. Harbeson, after serving a three-year term, declined to be a candidate again.

In the Orange Union High School district, one new candidate is in the field, Oscar Gunther. L. W. Evans, incumbent, whose term expires, has filed for re-election. Clyde Watson, the other outgoing member of the board, will not seek re-election. Holdover members of the board are L. A. Bortz, representing the Olive district; Earl Crawford, representing Orange, and William Knuth, representing Villa Park.

The term of one member, that of Mrs. Carl Sutton, expires on the Orange elementary school board. Mrs. Sutton has filed her petition for re-election. Other members of the board are W. F. Feldner and Floyd E. Watson.

At Tustin but one candidate has filed for the high school board, Walter J. Pollard. He has no opposition. On the elementary school board, J. J. Woodard, in-

RUMOR LIBERAL PAPER TO BE STARTED HERE

Persistent rumors that a liberal weekly newspaper was being contemplated for Santa Ana prior to the coming elections have been partially verified by leaders of the new enterprise.

It is understood that a group of men met last week to discuss the new project and that liberal liquor policies will be supported by the editors. Among those reported present at the meeting and supporting the proposed publication was H. R. Brinkerhoff, wholesale liquor dealer.

It has been intimated that the weekly will actively support the candidacies of S. B. Kaufman for district attorney, Floyd W. Howard for sheriff and James Davis for congress.

Noel Berry, former business manager of the Santa Ana Bulletin, is in charge of negotiations for the paper. It is understood that contributions are being sought for a fund of several hundred dollars for support of the paper, which is expected to endure only through the campaign, it is stated.

MRS. HETTINGA IS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Theodore Hettinga, 32, of Hines, member of a well known family of this community, passed away last night at University hospital in Culver City where she had been confined for the past six weeks.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Gilgoly funeral chapel, Orange, with Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of Orange Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be in the family plot in Santa Ana cemetery.

Mrs. Hettinga is survived by her husband, Theodore Hettinga, three children, Irene, 5, Theodore Jr., 3 and Stanley George, 3 weeks; her mother, Mrs. Mary Franzen, Tustin avenue; and four sisters and brothers, Mrs. Emma Smith, Santa Ana; Mrs. Mabel Steele, Bell; George Franzen, Orange, and Edwin Franzen, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Hettinga, who was born on the Franzen ranch here, was formerly Miss Della Franzen. She followed her graduation from Orange union high school in 1919 with studies at Santa Ana junior college, completing her higher studies at Pomona college, from where she received her degree in 1923.

WATER HEAD NAMED

Mr. Blakemore, of Garden Grove has been appointed as CWA foreman, a position held by Mr. Sigler.

Newport Beach
F. W. Abbott, Balboa apartment court owner, has filed as candidate for member of the Newport Beach grammar school board of trustees. He will oppose Conrad Shook, present member of the board, who is seeking re-election.

No opposition will be registered when Costa Mesa people go to the polls next Friday to elect two grammar school board members for but two candidates are in the field. George Healey, member of the board and chairman of its building committee, is seeking a place on the board to continue his work. Harry Aldrich, traffic officer and for many years a property owner and resident of Costa Mesa, has filed for a position on the board to take the place made vacant by Fred Opp, veteran board member, who is not running again.

COAST GROUP TO GET $1250 COUNTY FUNDS

Giving the project of raising a fund of several thousand dollars for advertising the Orange county coast section a good start, V. D. Johnson of Orange, county advertising agent, last night promised the Orange County Coast association, meeting at the Golden Bear cafe, Huntington Beach, that $1250 of county advertising funds would be available immediately for the use of the advertising committee of the organization.

City councilmen and individual members of the organization, who are large property owners, also promised co-operation in making the project a success.

Johnson said it was the custom of the county advertising department to spend that sum of money directly in advertising the coast during the summer months and that he was willing to trust the spending of the money to the committee of newspaper men, headed by Sam A. Meyer, of Newport Beach. He declared it had always been considered that the ocean front of the county is a good talking point for the whole county because of its recreational advantages.

Meyer first called on the Hon. P. A. Stanton of Seal Beach, state highway commissioner, who suggested the fund. Stanton expressed the opinion that all of the newspapers of the county should be used in the advertising campaign. He promised support in a financial way to the fund and that of a fund of $7000 that was raised 30 years ago when the first coast-wide organization, the South Coast Improvement association, was formed, declaring that the committee not only stopped fighting each other but helped each other and that a number of subdivisions that had been started were sold out through the advertising.

Stanton called attention to the fact that the ground on which Huntington Beach stands was bought in 1901 for $50,000 and that it is valued today at $50,000,000 and that the start was made through advertising. Stanton was credited by Mayor T. B. Talbert with being "the father of Huntington Beach." The highway commissioner made it a point that the time to advertise is during a depression. That will create a rising market, he said, and the buyers rush in to make their purchases during a rising market. He also declared that when the people of several communities in a section get together, the spirit shown is attractive to investing capital.

James Irvine sr., in a brief talk, advised against waste in advertising and promised that the Irvine company would do its share toward the advertising project. Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, said that most of the fund would have to be raised by the large property owners and the incorporated cities.

Chairman Meyer said it is the plan of the committee to have each community advertise its own attractions separately in each ad. He favored a large display with illustrations as being the most effective form of advertising. Mayor Talbert and Councilman A. T. Smith of San Clemente promised, if re-elected, to do their bits toward getting their communities to join in the project. Councilman E. B. Stevens of Huntington Beach made a similar promise. George Macleod said Newport Beach will do its share.

Catholic Schools In Basket Tourney

CHICAGO, March 21.—(UP)—Three games were scheduled for the opening round tonight of the eleventh annual National Catholic high school basketball championship tournament at Loyola university gymnasium.

Cathedral high school of Indianapolis, 1933 champions, was matched against St. Catherine of Dubois, Pa., in the opening game at 7:30 p. m.

The second game will bring Catholic high school of Joliet, Ill., into competition with Quincy academy, Quincy, Ill.

COAST GROUP TO HEAR TALK ON TAX PLAN

An open discussion of the so-called "synchro-tax," following a talk on the subject by W. M. Patch of Los Angeles, who addressed a forum in Santa Ana recently, will be a feature of the April meeting of the Orange County Coast association at the Hotel Laguna, Laguna Beach, N. E. West chairman of the committee on taxation reported at the meeting of the organization held last night at Huntington Beach.

The question of constantly rising taxes is one that concerns communities and members of the association. West said. Under the present system of taxation, which he said he was criticizing, and not individuals, the cost of county government had increased 100 percent in five or six years and there was not a corresponding reduction when the depression came. There should be sufficient flexibility in the tax system to take care of such emergencies. The cost of collecting taxes in the state, he said, is $50,000,000. The speaker declared that he realized that any movement that would lessen the number of officeholders would meet stern opposition.

Later the Hon. Phil A. Stanton, state highway commissioner, said that while he agreed government costs should be reduced, Orange county has had a fine set of "builders" in its important offices as any in the country. Stanton said he did not agree with reductions in assessed valuations, but in higher assessments and lower rates.

Speeches of welcome were made by Mayor Talbert and W. H. Bristol, president of the chamber of commerce. Charles D. Furr reported on sports. Roy Browning, Irvine company engineer and chairman of the water conservation committee, said that the Orange County Water District has sent protests to water spreaders in the upper basin of the Santa Ana river and to the Bixby interests against transporting water out of the basin.

Leslie F. Kimmell of Laguna Beach, chairman of the committee on legislation, reported that one phase of the oil controversy in Huntington Beach had been the question of public revenue from the pool under the icebed and gave notice that a plan will be suggested for consideration of the association whereby a percentage of the revenues will go, not only to the city of Huntington Beach, but to the county.

At the request of the South Coast Improvement association, which comprises the area of the South Coast county water district,

FAMED MEXICAN STARS ARE WITH BIG CIRCUS

Rosita and Esther Escalante, Celebrated Wire Walkers

From a tiny Mexican wagon show to the "big top" of the Great Al G. Barnes Circus is a big grade to make. But nevertheless, it was the experience of Rosita and Esther Escalante after representatives of the Al G. Barnes Circus saw them perform a few years ago.

and on motion of Mayor Talbert, Secretary Harry Welch was instructed to send a letter to the postoffice department endorsing an effort being made to change the name of the post office at Three Arches to "South Laguna."

Sheriff Logan Jackson gave an entertaining talk on the police radio broadcasting system in the county and the state teletype system. He spoke on invitation of Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, president of the association, after a visit to the jail. The sheriff said that the persons and property of the 43,000 persons in the county outside of the incorporated cities are protected by 21 men and women on the sheriff's force and that the radio system was of untold value. He hoped, he said, to have the cooperation of the 13 police departments and the state highway patrol by having receiving sets installed on police cars.

Now the girls are among the world's most celebrated tight wire walkers.

Countless new acts and features are promised for this season's Al G. Barnes Circus which will exhibit in Santa Ana, Monday April 2.

ARREST THREE ON CHARGE OF CONTRIBUTING

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Mrs. Alice Turner Converse, 29, Miss Melba Dennis, 19, and Buell Tucker, 22, Silverado CCC camp, are in the county jail after being arrested by sheriff's officers.

Tucker was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean while the two women were arrested this morning at Signal Hill by Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey and Dean and Matron Mrs. Clara Wing. In warrants issued by Judge Kenneth Morrison, they were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old Santa Ana girl, the sister of one of the defendants.

The women were arrested in Santa Ana several weeks ago for lewd vagrancy and on February 28, were given 90-day suspended jail sentences by Judge J. G. Mitchell, with the provision that they leave Santa Ana at once.

Those who desire may obtain tickets for the Los Angeles meeting by telephoning H. F. Kenney at 2319, it was announced.

A vigorous campaign on behalf of the proposed initiative measure will be conducted in Orange county prior to the coming general election.

HOW'S YOUR BLOOD?

Mrs. L. O. Darling of 850 Temple St., S. A. Bernardino, Calif., said: "My blood was in very poor condition. I had many boils and felons when I was a young girl growing into womanhood, and nothing seemed to help my condition. I had taken but two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when my complexion and blood were in perfect order. All druggists. New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00."

GIRL ASSAULT SENDS MAN TO STATE PRISON

Within 15 hours after he had criminally assaulted a 15-year-old Spanish girl, Glenn F. Simmons, 26, employee of the Willowick Golf club, and father of three children, was sentenced yesterday to not more than 50 years in San Quentin prison. Simmons was captured Monday night a few hours after the assault took place in the Santa Ana river bed.

Yesterday morning he was taken before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison who set bail at $10,000 after Simmons had waived his preliminary hearing. Yesterday afternoon he was taken before Superior Judge James L. Allen who appointed O. A. Jacobs to defend him. Simmons pleaded guilty to the charge and waived time for pronouncement of judgment and was sentenced immediately.

Simmons was arrested shortly before midnight Monday after the girl had reported the attack to Santa Ana police and had been taken to the county hospital where she is said to have been in a serious condition. After Simmons' capture by Santa Ana police who found him at his home, he was taken before the girl for identification and police were forced to battle a crowd of irate Mexicans who attempted to take him from the officers by force.

According to the girl's story to the police a short time before the attack Simmons had come to her house asking her to spend the evening with his children while he worked on a pump. He was taking her to his home on South Bristol street when the attack occurred. She told police that as they crossed the river in Simmons' car he pulled a gun and forced her to submit to him. She said that in the ensuing struggle she secured the gun and attempted to shoot Simmons but the revolver failed to fire and he took it away from her. He placed the girl in his automobile and drove her to Second and Bristol street where he left her after threatening her with violence if she told of his act, but the girl reported to the police.

denying that he had used a gun to enforce his demands. The girl, however, declared that after the attack Simmons placed the gun under the seat of his automobile where it was found by police.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon
REPUBLICANS

A dozen well-to-do Republican senators have put their heads together in what amounts to a secret political society. They have pooled their pocketbooks privately and set up an organization known among its friends as the Last of the Mohicans.

The primary object is to re-elect Mohican Republican senators, but the long range objective is to restore their once proud race to national political prestige.

Three or four of the senators are wealthy. They have guaranteed a salary and expenses for an exceptionally able publicity man, Warren Wheaton, former Washington newsmen. The understanding is general that he will take over national committee publicity after the November elections.

NEXT SENATE

The breaks are against them. Their senators come up for re-election in such states as Ohio, Maryland, West Virginia, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Indiana. If the Democrats do not win four or five of those states, the New Dealers will be bitterly disappointed.

The chances are two to one at this early date that the Democratic majority will be strengthened considerably in the senate by the next election.

Nearly all the Democrats who are up for re-election come from the South, which is just as solid today as it was in '61.

NEXT HOUSE

In private, the Democrats admit that they expect to lose 40 seats in the House. The inside claims of the Republicans are not optimistic. They do not expect to gain more than 70 seats at most, which is not enough to let them control the House.

Where the Republicans are sure to gain is in states like

Kentucky and Missouri. The Republican districts in those states lost their congressmen last time because they had to run at large and the state at large went Democratic. The Republicans also will pick up their normal rock-ribbed districts like the one in Virginia and two or three in California, which they have held since the year one—1822 excluded.

No matter how you figure it, however, the Democrats will retain control of congress. The only thing which can change this is a widespread popular revulsion against the New Deal. That may come, but it certainly is not in sight.

SKULLDUGGERY

Slippery Sam Inoué was secretly aided in his escape by a political faction in Greece—not the government.

At least, that is the belief of our officials in touch with the situation. They say sotto voce that the Greek government was quite sincere and fair in its handling of the matter after it changed its tactics a few months ago. But a certain faction, represented by the minister of interior, was not considered fair. That is why the minister resigned.

The state department people are confident they will ultimately get Inoué back to Chicago.

The flying bird will have to alight sometime.

JOY

The high moguls in our state department are secretly glad to see Mussolini expanding.

They believe it may mean a decline of French domination in Europe. French control was founded on alliances with the small central European nations. Now Mussolini is muscling in with his new treaties. He will also stop Hitler, if only for the time being.

People say that he will help disarmament because he is more sincere on that subject than the French. But that is a good deal to expect. It was not an idle boast when he said the Italians would dominate Europe within 60 years. Things are certainly winding around in that direction.

AIR MAIL

Smiling Jim Farley has lost his smile for the first time since he entered public life.

The air mail situation is much more tangled on the inside than on the out. The House committee has been balky and has got under Farley's skin.

No one yet knows how it will all come out. The airlines will get their contracts back but the haggling over terms will continue indefinitely.

POWER?

Defeat of the St. Lawrence treaty has been accredited to the power companies. They did not do as much as they are getting credit for. They may have helped to sway three or four senate votes, but the treaty was killed by the sectional self-interest of eastern Democrats.

The power lobby here is not what it used to be. Their lobbyist is supposed to have closed down his office Jan. 1 and has been looking for another job.

NOTES

Two Wall Streeters were talking it over the other day and agreed the days of easy money-making were about over. They believed modest investment profits can be expected generally, but that big investment profits will be rare.

Vice President Garner has been running wild with his little gavel. He rapped the appropriation bills through the senate so fast that the senators have no time for orating.

The administration has certainly soft-pedaled all phases of the money issue except silver. The committee for the nation is still agitating as much as ever for further depreciation, but no one pays any attention.

When the congressmen learned that their restaurant showed a profit of $5 for the first few months, they beseeched the authorities to reduce prices. They have been eating at a government loss for so long that they hate to see the government come out even on their food.

NEW YORK

By James McMullen

BELLWETHERS

New York motor circles had more than a casual voice in the industry's move to adopt the 36-hour week with increased wages. Neutral observers rate it a keen piece of double-barreled strategy. It robs restless labor circles of reasons to justify strike sentiment and it puts the automobile people in the position of bellwethers for the industrial herd in support of General Johnson's shorter week campaign.

Private reports here indicate that NRA officials are duly grateful and that friendly relations thus promoted will stand the motor moguls in good stead in the event of further closed shop disputes.

Curiously the steel industry—also an open-shop stronghold—may be next to follow the motor's lead despite deficits. These two industries are generally on excellent terms with NRA. They would no more think of giving up their codes than they would of abandoning their company unions!

EXECUTIVES

The executive forces of local department stores are likely to take a surprising jump if the 36-hour plan comes through for retailers. Executives are exempt from hour restrictions. One large store at least has detailed figures to prove that it's cheaper to raise the pay of salespeople to qualify them as executives than to add another shift.

Of course that wouldn't help unemployment but the store in question has about decided to let General Johnson do the worrying on that score.

GAINS

The latest figures on New York State factory employment show encouraging improvement. The gain of 5.8 per cent for January to February is much bigger than usual. That one month recuperated the previous employment losses over the four-month period from September to January. The New York factory figures are accepted by experts as a fair sampling for the country at large.

LA GUARDIA

Mayor La Guardia's unremitting efforts on behalf of his New York City economy bill will probably get results in the state legislature on the fifth try.

But the mayor's suave refusal to accept defeat and ease up on the pressure has the Democrats at Albany plenty bothered. One of the assembly leaders privately tells his friends that "This man La Guardia is out to wreck the Democratic party and it won't do to regard him as a simple nut on civic virtue."

TAX

The New York state sales tax is very much alive despite the fifty-to-one ballot piled up against it in a straw vote conducted by the New York stores. This expression of public opinion is less important politically than the discovery by Tammany legislators that the Republican plan offers them an out on some of their city troubles.

The fight will be bitter when it really gets going. Certain elements supposed to be against the sales tax may spring a major surprise by turning state's evidence in favor of it. The farm organizations are worth watching in this connection.

BONUS

Local American Legion circles are irked because the public evidently believes the Legion is behind the latest bonus drive.

The Legion is sticking to its four-point program and had nothing to do with it. The Veterans of Foreign Wars were somewhat involved. But the real main-spring was an effort by the paper-money crowd to test whether public sentiment has become more favorable to their cause. The veterans were just a convenient front—although the veterans themselves didn't know it. The public reaction—as reported by scouts all over the country—is privately regarded as disappointing.

LEGION

Of course the Legion is in a delicate position. It has many more bonuseers than presumptive disabled on its rolls. An open referendum of Legion sentiment would undoubtedly favor the bonus. Insiders understood it took smart maneuvering at the last convention to keep it off the official program.

The result is some fancy tight-rope walking by Legion officials.

They want to be in a position to claim credit if by a miracle the bonus goes through. But they also want to be able to point out that they didn't waste their shots if it doesn't.

TIRES

The tire industry is in a fair way to settle its unpublishized but damaging civil war. Dealers—not included in the code—have been raising hob with stable prices by granting excessive allowances for worn-out shoes traded in. Certain manufacturers were accused of encouraging such practices and inside feeling was becoming bitter.

This argument has now been settled. But a new cloud has arisen in the form of underselling by mail order stores. The mail order people show no signs of co-operation and it looks as if General Johnson will soon fall heir to a new headache.

HEROES

Wall Street buzzes with comment about Chairman Potter of the Guaranty Trust and President Johnston of the Chemical, who had the nerve to appear publicly in Washington against certain features of the Fletcher-Rayburn bill. Most local bank officers were in agreement but not on the principle that the loss contact they have with Congress the better off they are. Messrs. Potter and Johnston are cited as quite the heroes by comparison.

VETERAN DEPENDS ON YOUTHS

Beet by more problems than any other big league manager, Connie Mack, leader of the Athletics, is wearing a worried look these days. He's trying to rebuild a wrecked Philadelphia squad after disposing of Grove, Cochran, Earnshaw, Walberg and Bishop. Here's an excellent closeup of Connie showing the lines of care in his face.

(This is the first of a series of dope stories from major league training camps—Sport Editor's note.)

By BILL BRAUCHER
(NEA Service Sports Editor)
PORT MYERS, Fla., March 21.—No club is outstanding in the American league race this year. The Athletics can come through if they have luck with their young pitchers.

A young man who turns down a job worth $5000 a year these days ought to have his head examined.

These were thoughts uttered by Connie Mack, manager of the A's, as he begins to rebuild a team shattered by a financial depression which paralyzed the Philadelphia turnstiles. Mack still is in there fighting.

"This looks like the closest race the league has known in years," he said, as he stood looking at an assortment of players, many of whom were wearing the A's uniform for the first time. "Washington isn't a great team. The Yankees have been going backward."

"The question with us is pitching. If we are fortunate enough to find a couple of young pitchers among the men out there, we will be in the fight all the way. I am placing confidence in the three young men we purchased from Oklahoma City, Al Benton, Vernon Kennedy and Harry Matuzak. There's Benton over there warming up now. That's a good old pitching man. Big, isn't he?"

The writer looked. Yes, he was big, all of 6 feet 4, and all Oklahoma City and gristle. The veteran Eddie Rommel, pitcher for the A's for 15 years and now a coach, was watching Benton and giving him pointers. Occasionally Mack chimed in with some advice about how to hide the ball with the glove before delivery.

"With these young pitchers," Mack continued, "it's a matter of confidence. They have great chances and great ability."

Would Mr. Mack name a few of his starting pitchers? The writer produced a roster.

"Well, you see we have only three men who were with us last year. They are Cain, Dietrich and Mahaffey, who is the veteran of the staff. Mack continued, "It's a matter of confidence. They have great chances and great ability."

The "others" are eight or nine young men from near and far, some purchased, but most of them picked up as "free agents." The training camp slogan seems to be: "Come to Fort Myers if You Can Throw a Ball."

To tell the young men what to pitch Mack is depending on the veteran catcher, Charley Berry, acquired from the White Sox, Charley being regarded as Cochran's successor. Young Eddie Matjick is in reserve.

The Mackian infield seems to be well set, although for a while it seemed Connie would be without a first-sacker. Mack had a lot of trouble with Jimmy Fox in contract matters, and with Frank Higgins, too. Higgins led the league's third baseman last year in every department of baseball except wild throws. It is around these two that the A's leader will build.

"Jimmy Fox is a nice boy," Mack told me, "but he was spoiled by a lot of newspapermen telling him that he could get more money."

"We paid Al Simmons three times what he was worth when we were winning and getting crowds. But we can't pay players more than we are making!"

"When we signed Simmons for $35,000 a year, we had prospects of drawing more than a half-million people at the gate. It isn't like that now. In 1933 we didn't have 300,000."

"Last year we still would have been in debt if all the players had worked for nothing. This baseball may come back. But how do I know? I can't break into the mint and get the money. I don't want to go to jail at this stage of the game."

Whereupon Connie Mack suddenly discovered far across the diamond a rookie infielder who wasn't coming up right with the ball for a throw. Proceedings were halted while the fault was corrected.

With a wish to the effect that the faults of the Athletics this year would be corrected, too, we left Connie Mack, busy with his rookies—and his thoughts.

ROBBY JONES RETURNS TO GOLF

Encouraged by a surprise victory over Brea-Olinda, Clyde Cook's Santa Ana Saints were in Long Beach today for a return fray with the Woodrow Wilson Bruins, who defeated them last week, 4-0.

On the short end of the score for six straight games, Santa Ana looked like a different club chalking up a 11-10 win at Poly field yesterday.

Although their fielding was spotty, the Saints were arranged in a new batting order that collected 12 hits and 8 earned runs off a Brea club that is considered a likely contender for Southland honors this season.

Spirited rallies in the third and seventh accounted for the upset. Each team scored once in the first. Then "Shorty" Smith's Wildcats jumped into a 3-1 lead in the second when Pitcher Bill Thaxton felled a home run over the right field fence with Lashley aboard. Brea's margin was short-lived, however, for with two away in the third, the Saints began their first rally that put them ahead, 4-3. Tom Lacy, whose air-tight fielding at short was a highlight of the game, walked, and the hard-hitting sophomore, Art Nieblas, doubled sharply to right-center. Willie Jones brought them in with a lofty homer over the left field wall.

Five Saint errors and two singles destroyed this lead in the fourth, and gave Brea five runs and an 8-4 margin. The Cats increased the count, 10-4, in the seventh, and then the Saints put on their second rally. Nieblas clouted the third homer of the day with Harold Jesse on base, and Fred Southworth, Al Halderman and Jesse Ojeda also collected timely hits that figured in five Saint runs. Brea led, 10-9.

The contest had a tragic end for the uncouth outst Santa Ana went out 1-1 in the last of the eighth—the final inning—but Lacy walked and Nieblas came through with his third hit of the game, a single that put Lacy on third. Lacy scored when Pitcher Dharce attempted to catch Nieblas off second, and Nieblas brought in the winning run when Catcher Hennessey threw wildly past second base, and the ball took a bad hop over the Brea center fielder.

Allowing eight hits, Fred Erdhaus hurled most of the game for the Saints.

Urban Military academy of Los Angeles, well known here through two night football games with the Dons, will send its baseball team to Poly field for a non-league skirmish with Santa Ana Junior college at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Coach "Bono" Korral, who has caught in past games, probably will pitch against Urban, he indicated today, with tentative plans to shift Gordon Mallett, fresh hurler, to first base, and Reg Lacy from first to second. If Bob Wimbush is available, he will go to short stop, and Infielder Leo Morse to center. "Red" McDaniel, outfielder, will catch.

Santa Ana's starting lineup will be completed with Art Wilde on third, Wendell Kanawyer and Dick Clark in the outfield. Harold Young may open at second and Ben Sloan in right field.

Earle ("Tex") Harris, star end for Santa Ana high school's 1931 football champions, is a member of the Urban club.

Wimbush, Korral and Morse are leading the Dons in batting after seven practice games. Each has collected seven hits. Percentages follow:

Possibility of three meetings between Jimmy LuValle, U.C.L.A. phenom, and Al Blackman, Stanford star, looms when track and field teams of the Bruins and Indians meet on Angell field here March 31. The two will doubtless tangle in their favorite event, the 440- and may also match strides in the 220 and the last lap of the four-man mile relay. Although LuValle's best times are faster than Blackman's, some critics believe that the lanky Cardinal may spring a surprise or two.

Beginning March 31 Stanford's track team clashes with five formidable opponents on successive week ends. Following is the schedule: March 31, U.C.L.A., April 7, University of San Francisco; April 14, Olympic club; April 21, California; April 28, Fresno State.

If the University of California track team defeats Stanford here April 21, it will be the Bears' first victory over their Indian rivals in 11 years, to the day. On April 21, 1923, the Blue and Gold tracksters beat the redskins 82½ to 48½.

"Dink" Templeton, in his fourteenth year as head coach of Stanford track and field teams, has a remarkable record against the Indians' two greatest rivals—California and Southern California. The Cardinals, under Templeton, have won 10 dual meets from the Bears, losing two and tying one. They have won 12 from the Trojans and lost five. In 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1933, Stanford followed is the schedule: March 24, S.C. met in two meets each year.

Stanford athletes are now devoting their entire attention to studying for winter quarter final examinations which will be held Tuesday to Friday, March 20-23. No athletic events are scheduled until after the examination period.

Harry Wolter's ball team is scheduled to play six conference games in 11 days, beginning March 24. Four of the five will be against Southern California and the fifth against California. Following is the schedule: March 24, S.C. met in two meets each year.

Wetherell Set For Two Court Tourneys

Lewis Wetherell, sensational young Santa Ana tennis player, launches a campaign this week-end which may lead him into Eastern tournament trails during the summer.

After participating in the Citrus Belt league matches here Sunday, Wetherell will go into Los Angeles for the fourth annual spring vacation junior championships at the Bel-Air country club.

At the conclusion of this meet, Wetherell moves to Santa Monica to take part in the Dudley Cup matches, which decide the prep champions of Southern California each year.

Robert Harmon and other San Francisco stars have entered the Bel-Air competition along with such promising Southland juniors as Lawrence Nelson, Robert Underwood, Robert Riggs, Jack Cressner and Joe Hunt, most of whom Wetherell has beaten in other tournaments.

Miss Marjorie Lauderbach, another Santa Ana, also will play in this tournament.

FIVE CLUBS IN NATIONAL RACE GIBSON BELIEF

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Any one of five clubs can win the National league pennant, believes George Gibson, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"The five strongest clubs in my opinion are New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Boston and Pittsburgh," said Gibson. "I don't think the Giants will get the pitching and the breaks they did last year. I look for the Cardinals to have a better club. The Cubs have been strengthened. The Braves might make all kinds of trouble if their pitchers come through. My club has a chance, probably as good as any of the others at this time."

Many baseball critics and players with Pittsburgh and Chicago—the two National league clubs training in California—believe the pennant race will be between the Pirates and Cubs. Manager Gibson does not subscribe to this belief.

"The Cubs will be contenders all right," he commented, "but I don't think the addition of 'Chuck' Klein will win the pennant for them as many do. Klein is a great ball player and will help any team but he is going to miss that short right field fence he used to shoot at in the Phillies' park. It's going to take more than Klein to bring the Cubs home in front."

"Pittsburgh has a good ball club but I wouldn't say that we look like champions now. Last year we were picked to win the pennant, and look what happened. Our four leading hitters, Lindstrom, Traynor and Paul and Lloyd Waner all had their worst years in their major league careers. If these players come back, and our pitchers come through we will be up in the race but there are four other clubs that also have pennant possibilities."

The new uniform ball adopted by the National league may prove a factor in the race, according to Gibson.

"I am convinced that the new ball will mean a lot more scoring and that it will benefit the team that has long distance hitters more than a team with a strong pitching staff," said Gibson.

When the re-bunkered Red Sox take the field for their first game of the season the young man at short will be Bill Cissell, and an interesting experiment with a high-priced piece of ivory will enter another phase.

"Cissell, who came up from the Pacific Coast seven years ago with a $125,000 price tag appended to his person, has been regarded differently by the various managers under whom he has worked."

Lena Blackburne, who had charge of the Comiskey exhibits when Cissell was added to the collection, took it for granted that Bill was a shortstop and played him at that position during his regime, though Cissell turned out some very poor short-stopping.

CHANGE FOR THE WORSE
Donie Bush decided to make the costly coast player a second baseman. After a time he changed his mind and decided that Bill really was a third baseman, but he was fooled again, for Cissell played third no better than Ping Bodie could have, which would have been pretty bad if Ping ever had been given the chance.

Cissell didn't have the arm a third baseman, who has to throw hard across the diamond, is supposed to possess, so when he turned up at Cleveland after a stop, after all.

NEWPORT BEACH, March 21.—Skippers and the new P. C. (Pacific Coast) class of yachts may race here at the Easter sailing regatta, in addition to the starboats already scheduled to compete on the Newport-Balboa course during the two week-ends of March 24 and 25, and March 31 and April 1.

Walter Hubbard Jr., well known coast boat builder and former international starboat champion, and Billy Lyon, youthful ex-champion of the Newport Harbor starboat fleet, are both willing to race their P. C. yachts, and a special event for that class may be arranged, it was learned today.

The P. C. yachts are a recently developed class of pleasure sailing craft, between the starboats and six-meters in size, about 35 feet overall in length.

Starting lineups: Christians—Bennett and Korkhorst, forwards; Blanchard, center; Valentine and Conkright, guards. Methodists—Herren and Bragg, forwards; Spangler, center; Cook and McChesney, guards.

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—(UP)—Legal antics of Max Baer and his lawyers and managers were continued in superior court today after Judge Malcolm Glenn instructed principals in the case to "quit shadow boxing" and present all the evidence they had.

The heavyweight fighter did so much fidgeting, back-slapping and stage whispering in court last yesterday that he finally was excused so he could play golf.

While attorneys were wrangling about $2 items, he whispered, loudly, that he had not counted "800 fish I dropped in Tex Guinan's night club one night."

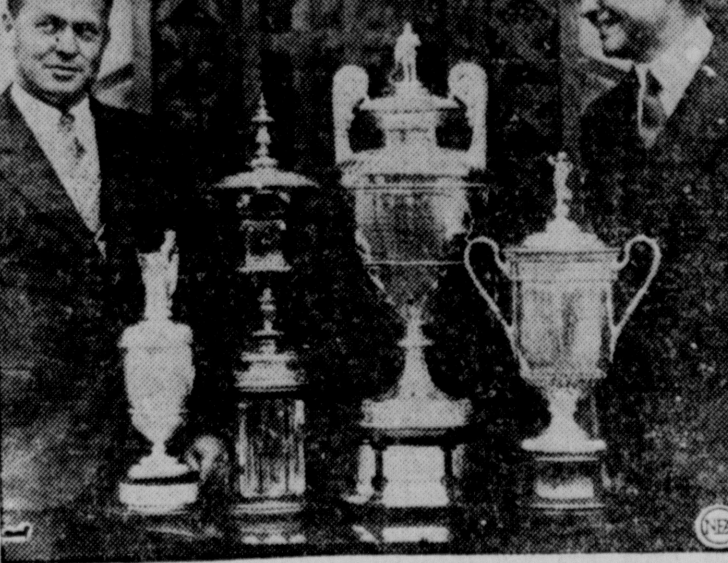

Then he playfully dropped a burning match in the shoe of one of his accountants, who clapped at his companion's back so hard that his victim began gasping for air.

Judge Glenn said he would conduct the case himself today and finish the matter. The trial has continued sporadically since early in the winter.

J. Ham Lorimer and Anell Hoffman, Baer's managers, are attempting to settle a controversy regarding contracts, percentage due each, and money owed Lorimer.

MEMORIES OF A GRAND SLAM

For the first time since he won all these cups in one season—the "Grand Slam" of golf—Bobby Jones will play competitively to show in the picture with Jones and his friend, O. B. SPECIAL RITES FOR PRIEST TO BE HELD AT J.C.

Planning for an alumni exhibit and special rites for the late Reverend Father St. John O'Sullivan, the Santa Ana Junior College Fiesta committee met last night under the chairmanship of Austin Joy to start plans for the annual Spanish Fiesta to be held at the college on May 11.

Don and Dona fiestas rulers this year will be crowned by Father Hutchison of San Juan Capistrano mission. It was revealed, taking the place of Father O'Sullivan, who died last spring. Don and Dona will be chosen at a Jaycee associated student election in April, it was revealed by Joy.

The fiesta is the headline Santa Ana junior college event each year, and is held sometime in May. A Spanish motif predominates, and various phases of the affair are under the direction of campus service clubs. Last year presented the main event of the fiesta, but no plans for the special event this year have been announced as yet by Thomas H. Glenn, English head, who annually acts as faculty chairman of the fête.

The drama department each year presents a play the night of the fiesta, this year billing "Three Corners Moon," to be presented in the Willard auditorium May 11 and 12. An annual beard-growing contest for Dons is held, and prizes for various kinds of beards are awarded at the fiesta.

Committee heads under the direction of main Chairman Joy are: Malcolm Richards, ticket sales; Harold Woodward, program; Harriet Abrams, costumes; John Johnson, dance; Joe Wilson, decorations; Jane Crawford, decorations; and John "Sky" Dunlap, alumni exhibit.

Claude Owens, manager of the Orpheo troupe, will advertise the fiesta by presenting the troupe of Jaycee singers at various public functions between now and May 11.

Players Please Audience With Snappy Comedy

Santa Ana Players, opening their second week last night at the Playhouse, Third and Bush streets, pleased a small but appreciative audience with Oscar Wilde's rollicking comedy "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Those attending the opening night of the new production expressed great praise for the work of the entire cast, composed mostly of members of the Pasadena Playhouse. The comedy situations were extremely well handled, they agreed and tribute was paid to every member of the cast.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented again to-night, Thursday and Friday.

It is the aim of the Santa Ana Players to bring leading screen and stage stars to Santa Ana to take the leading parts in many plays that are being projected.

The Santa Ana Players comprise well trained actors and actresses who have gained success in many of the theaters of Southern California on both the screen and the stage. They are being sponsored by the Pasadena Playhouse and those who have seen them in the two plays they have staged in Santa Ana predict that there is a fine future for them in Santa Ana once the theater going public learns of their ability.

AIR MAIL IS DISCUSSED BY TWA OFFICIAL

Charging that the government has made other air transportation companies suffer for the sins of one or two companies, Morgan Nickell, traffic representative of the Transcontinental and Western Air Express, addressed members and guests of the Santa Ana Twenty-Third club last night in James' cafe.

He stated that because of the action of the government in cancelling mail contracts, he, and hundreds of others, are out of jobs. "If there is such a thing as graft in connection with the air-mail contracts, why should the entire industry suffer for the sins of one or two of the companies involved?" Nickell asked.

After discussion the air mail sit-

She was a native of Brooklyn, the seventh daughter of a large family. She had no sooner finished school in Mount Vernon, N.Y., than she headed for Broadway, where she unsuccessfully sought work.

Artist Model During one of these visits Rudolph Krehmer, a famous artist, saw her, admired her figure and used her as a model for several of his prize winning achievements.

Florenz Ziegfeld saw her one day and placed her in the Follies, which she had placed as her stage ambition, not the stepping stone to further efforts.

After two years in the Follies with feature billing, she became known as New York's best dressed actress. She played in stock in Baltimore and Washington before again returning to New York where she played the leading role in "The Garden of Weeds."

There she met Edmund Lowe, who soon became her husband. She followed Lowe to Hollywood when he was forced to return to his screen work, and James Cruze gave her her initial film role.

She remained on the screen until this past winter when she returned to New York for vaudeville engagements with Lowe.

Among her more important films were "Camille" with Norma Talmadge, "Craig's Wife," "The Trial of Mary Dugan," "Bullfrog Drummond," "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," and "Putting on the Ritz."

Miss Tashman was born in New York on Oct. 23, 1899, the daughter of Maurice Tashman, a manufacturer of children's clothing. Her real name was Lily.

Nickell took up the subject of aviation in general, stressing the improvements that have taken place in recent years, and forecasting the developments that will take place in the future.

Nickell's address here last night was made possible through the efforts of Julia Anne Hyde of the travel department of the Commercial National Bank of Santa Ana.

Musical entertainment was provided by Dr. Lawrence Cameron, and included vocal solos by Miss Jane Bennett, of Brea. She was accompanied at the piano by Glenn Osburn, also of Brea.

ARREST MOTORIST FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Santa Ana police arrested two men on liquor violations last night, one for drunken driving and one for intoxication.

Roland Humphrey, 39, 1604 West First street, was arrested by Officers A. L. Steward and Joe Murrillo at 10:50 o'clock last night while driving north on Main street at Delhi road. He was examined by a physician, pronounced intoxicated to a marked extent and booked at the jail for drunken driving. He admitted to officers that he had been drinking wine, according to police reports.

Everett B. Webster, 51, 722 East Pine street, was arrested for drunkenness at Fourth and French streets by Officers Carl Adams and J. W. Foster and booked at the jail at 9 p. m.

RESCUE GROUPS DOT ANTARCTIC ICE BARRIERS

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, March 21.—(UP)—(Via Mackay Radio)—Rescue parties and parties to rescue rescuers dotted the Ross ice barrier today.

William C. Bowlin and Clay Bailey, camping out with their fuelless monoplane on the barrier, awaited gasoline.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd and William McCormick, in an autogiro, set out in front of them yesterday. At the same time two dog sled teams left the camp here, also to seek the missing aviators.

Byrd and McCormick sighted Bowlin and Bailey and landed, to find them asleep in their tent. Taking off again, Byrd and Bailey landed when they saw the dog sled parties plodding southward over the snow covered ice.

McCormick took up Dr. Thomas C. Poulter and Quin Blackburn of the dog sled parties to show them where Bowlin and Bailey were camped. When he landed near the dog sled parties the engine of the autogiro was knocking and he decided it had to be repaired.

Byrd took one of the rescue dog sled teams and returned to Little America afoot.

The second dog sled team set out to the rescue of the isolated monoplane and Bowlin and Bailey. Poulter, Blackburn and Pilot

SPORTS EVENTS AT JAYSEE WON BY BUCCANEERS

Buccaneers were winners of the "Little Brown Jug," first prize, at the first annual inter-club gymnastic sing party held by Santa Ana Junior college men's service groups Monday night in Andrews gymnasium.

Second place was taken by the Brotherhood of Bachelors, Junior Lions were third and Los Gauchos came fourth in the contest.

With an attendance of approximately 120 men, the experiment was announced a success by John Wells, who was general chairman of the affair. The purpose of the event is to establish and promote better relationships among clubs on the campus and to eliminate club rivalry.

Winners of the various events were: lightweight wrestling, first match, Wayne White; second match, Paul Hales; middleweight wrestling, first match, George Robertson, and a second match, a draw between Wendall Kanawyer and Maurice Plumlee; heavyweight wrestling, first match, Sam Tucker, and second match, "Stogie" Meece.

Draws resulted in lightweight boxing between Kenney Vanduff and "Scotty" McFarland and Harold Woodard and Bill Friend; middleweight boxing, first match, Garth Benjamin drew with Tom Cole, second match, Lorian Wilson, winner; heavyweight boxing, Paul Jacques.

Ball throwing, Ed Bragg, Gauchos, winner; chinning, George Farquhar, Gauchos; balloon bursting, Ray Hoar, Buccaneers; tug-of-war, Buccaneers; rope climbing, Bill Proctor, Junior Lion; nail driving, Byron Stoddard, Bachelor.

At the conclusion of the regular matches, Wayne White, former prep wrestling champion of Kansas, and Paul Hales, last year's Southern California titleholder, put on a non-decision exhibition match.

Assisting John Wells in arranging the stage were Ray Hoar, entertainment; Gilbert McKeeth, and Marvin Spicer, advertisement; William Allen, trophy committee; and Bill McDaniel, supervisor of committee chairman.

McCormick stayed with the disabled autogiro.

Lieut. Comdr. Isaac Schlossback and Paul Swan left Little America with a dog sled to take repair materials to the autogiro.

DON DEBATORS TIE FOR LEAD AFTER VICTORY

Defeating the Fullerton affirmative debating squad last night, Santa Ana speakers were victors on the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the Powers of the President Should Be Increased as a Settled Policy," and are now in line for the league championship.

Debateurs Walter Kring and Glen Bishop brought out their disapproval of the increase in power, holding as their main points that there was no urgent need of change, and that it would be almost impossible to establish any settled policy with our governmental bodies changing as often as they do.

Upholders of the affirmative side, Stanley Christensen and Alex Fidler were defeated. It was revealed by Dr. Crawford Brubaker, judge of the contest, mainly because they presented no possible way of making the increase in power permanent, and because they could put forth no specific expedients that would be benefited by added power to the President.

The debate was conducted through the Oregon system, whereby there is an opportunity for cross-questioning as well as presentation of argument and rebuttal.

Santa Ana will be in the final debate sometime in April, and will meet San Bernardino, Riverside or Chaffey. All teams in the league have lost at least one debate, Santa Ana having lost to Riverside, so the Dons will at least tie for first if they win their April final. They have defeated Citrus, San Bernardino and Fullerton.

ADmits DRUNKEN DRIVING

Leslie E. Davis, 28, Santa Monica, bound over to the superior court, asked for probation and had his hearing set for March 30 by Judge James Allen.

Davis waived his preliminary hearing before Judge Kenneth Morrison this morning and was held to answer under $500 bail. He has been held in jail since Sunday, when he was arrested by Santa Ana police on South Main street near Delhi road. He admitted to officers that he had been drinking whiskey and a small bottle partly full was found in his car, according to police. He was pronounced intoxicated to a marked extent by a physician.

RUTH CHATTERTON IN FILM AT STATE

Two interesting stories are on the double feature bill opening to-night at Walker's State theater, it was announced today by Vic Walker, manager.

They are found in "Female," the story of a "big business" woman and her conquests in business and love, starring Ruth Chatterton in a setting of a huge automobile manufacturing plant; and "King for a Night," featuring Chester Morris. The second film is the story of what happens to an overnight popular idol when he finds those he loves best are "cheaters."

S. A. GROUP GIVES CCC ENTERTAINMENT

A program of entertainment for members of Camp Trabuco, CCC, was staged Tuesday night by the Santa Ana office of the Gibraltar casualty association. Fred Schweitzer was in charge of the event.

Entertainment was furnished by Olive Schweitzer, pianist, Johnnie Stout, violinist, and Carolyn Miller, who gave humorous recitations. A humorous reading also was given by Mrs. P. R. Arnold.

Others present were P. E. Dooley, P. R. Arnold, P. R. Schweitzer and T. A. Broderick, of the casualty concern.

SCHOOL BOARD APPORTIONS REPAIR FUNDS

Meeting in special session this morning the Santa Ana board of education was notified that it would be impossible for the government to make the federal grant of 36 per cent of the amount requested for reconstruction of earthquake damaged elementary schools, but that the grant may be awarded for the high school reconstruction.

Following receipt of this notice, federal funds available for reconstruction of the schools under provision of the Greene bill were allocated, with $100,000 being set aside to rehabilitate the Julia Lathrop Junior high school, $75,000 for rebuilding Spurgeon school and $43,000 for rehabilitation of Edison school. The resolution provided that both elementary schools should be brought up to the same standard of safety regardless of the difference in amounts set aside for the work.

W. M. Burke voted against the resolution allocating the funds to Spurgeon and Edison schools, declaring that it is unfair to allocate sufficient money to complete Spurgeon school and use the balance for Edison. He contended that both schools should receive equal amounts.

League Official Outlines New Emergency Relief Plan

DESIGNED TO GIVE WORK TO ALL JOBLESS

Declaring that the new State Emergency Relief Administration program will assure work for every person in need of a job, Harold Pomeroy, mayor of Southgate and field representative of the California League of Municipalities, addressed a group of mayors and city officials of Orange county communities at the Green Cat cafe here yesterday.

Pomeroy has just returned from San Francisco, where he is in close touch with federal officials, and brought a clear picture of how the SERA will function when it takes over the program of the CWA throughout the nation on April 1.

"The SERA will not be a permanent source of income," Pomeroy pointed out, "but workers will be guaranteed at least 26 weeks of work per year. Men will be qualified and registered according to need and put to work on projects as soon as possible."

Registration

"Men now working on the CWA and other agencies will not be required to re-register under the SERA but their qualifications and records will be transferred whenever possible. Each worker will receive a notification of his eligibility, otherwise he must re-register with new applicants for work."

"Many abuses of the CWA will be eliminated under the new regime. Two members of one family will not be paid from public funds. There will be absolutely no partiality in giving jobs and veterans, aliens and members of unions will be treated alike. It is probable that unreasonably high salaries in the administrative offices will be reduced."

Pomeroy said that the SERA will seek to promote projects of recreational, educational and cultural advantage along with the projects composed mainly of labor and construction. He said that long range planning was desired and that work should be completed which would not ordinarily be done at public expense. Such things as playgrounds, flood control work, swimming pools, drainage improvements, parks, beautification of city property, tree planting, codification of city ordinances, research work, recopying records, new filing systems, modernizing of maps and other constructive projects are to be desired, he said.

It was also pointed out that in addition to city and county agencies, school districts, road improvement districts, sanitation districts, drainage districts and other bodies are eligible and welcome to submit projects.

Plan Carefully

"The CWA will be entirely shut down at the end of March," the speaker said. "New projects under the SERA will be started as soon as possible but no undue haste will be tolerated. There will be no attempt to throw the whole mass of unemployed into jobs at once with sacrifice of efficiency, economy and common sense. Engineers will confer with city heads and work out the best projects. All appropriations and orders will come from San Francisco and there will be no local engineers or heads to interfere with the program."

Another of the changes outlined by Pomeroy is the manner of paying wages. There will be no "unskilled" and "skilled" classifications but distinct wage scales for each occupation, such as common laborer, truck driver, carpenter, bookkeeper, etc. There will also be a 24-hour week everywhere and no varying classifications for rural and urban territories. The first employment will be given in cities but the program will be spread out into the rural areas as soon as possible, he said.

Pomeroy said that first details of the SERA provided that work would be provided only in towns above 2500 population but said this would undoubtedly be changed to provide relief for rural sections.

Federal Funds

"The federal funds for SERA will be a direct donation to states and will not have to be paid back," Pomeroy said. "It behooves every city to submit projects because the need of employment will be considered rather than quotas of men, population of the town or number of persons previously on relief rolls."

"It has not been worked out whether SERA workers will be covered by federal compensation insurance since the money will be distributed by the state but attempts are being made to create a fund for protection of the workers."

"Projects previously approved for cities but on which work has not been started, will be given prior rank in the new program if they are considered to be as desirable as the newer projects being submitted."

"Street and highway work was not included in the first setup because it conflicted with the customary functions of cities and states, but latest word is that now highway projects, aside from maintenance, will be permitted."

FEAR NEEDED FOR CONTROL OF CRIMINALS

Criminals rule by fear, and they will continue to rule until law enforcement officers stoop to the barbarous methods used by criminals to rule the criminals.

This statement was made by Capt. Don Wilkie, former government secret service operator, lecturer and author, in a program staged by the Laguna Beach Rotary club for the Santa Ana Rotary club yesterday afternoon in James' cafe.

Captain Wilkie minced no words, and told his listeners that if the same rate of increase in crime for the past 20 years holds good for the next year there will be a hold-up for every nine minutes, a burglary every 12 minutes.

"There have been more predatory, armed habitual criminals in the United States since 1897 than there are men in the standing army of the nation," he declared. "There are 150,000 more criminals than all the United States soldiers killed in the war. A half million conscienceless killers are highly organized from coast to coast. Criminals loot the country to the tune of eight and a half billion dollars each year, but it is split so many ways that no one criminal gets rich."

Criminal groups are kept highly organized through political connections and in buying criminal lawyers they escape the consequences of their crime, he said.

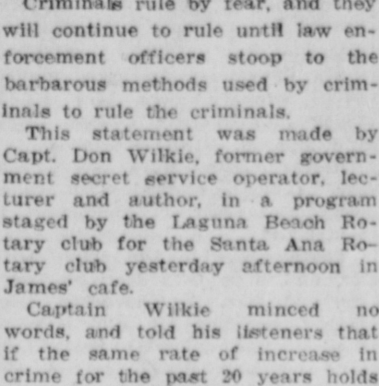

The crime bill of the United States costs each person in the nation $108 each year, he declared.

"Criminals have proven that fear can rule," he asserted. "From the head of the criminal organizations down rule is maintained by the fear of a horrible death. They will rule until society stoops to barbarous methods of punishment."

"Prison is no deterrent or punishment for the criminal," he said, pointing out that inmates of prisons are well fed, clothed, are provided with books, radios, shows, athletics and other forms of recreation. One new prison even has an 18-hole golf course for the prisoners, he said.

Entertainment for the meeting was provided by Frank Cuprien, Laguna Beach artist, who played original compositions on the piano. All but two members of the Laguna Beach club attended the meeting.

And Driver Escaped—By Inches

Here's what happens when automobile drivers fail to see the red flag on the pole projecting from the truck ahead! Victor Simons, driving this car in Kansas City, Mo., failed to see the warning in time to avoid the crash, but did the next best thing—fell sideways in his seat and saved his life by inches.

ECONOMICS TO BE DISCUSSED AT LIONS CLUB

"New Fashions in Economic Thinking" is the subject of an address to be given by Harry V. Adams, of the speakers bureau of the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles before members and guests of the Santa Ana Lions club tomorrow noon in James' cafe at the regular weekly meeting. It was announced today by Secretary E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist.

Maude Mosher, well known graphologist who is appearing this week at the Broadway theater, will give a demonstration of character analysis from handwriting.

Another feature of the meeting will be an old-fashioned spelling bee, to be conducted with teams selected from the membership of the club. Dr. Robert O. Grover is in charge of the program for the day.

Arrangements will be discussed for the out-door meeting to be held a week from tomorrow in Jack Fisher park when the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the Lions club will be guests.

The Brea Lions club will meet with the local club on April 5, and will stage the program for the meeting.

William Copeland is a new member of the Santa Ana club.

LARGE PAPAYA MELON GROWN IN SANTA ANA

A large papaya melon, rare in this section, was displayed in the newsroom of The Register yesterday afternoon by G. N. Grigsby, who has cultivated a tree bearing the melons in his greenhouse at 1113 Spurgeon street.

The melon Grigsby had with him weighed eight pounds and was oval shaped. The melons, he said, are rich in natural vegetable papain which is widely used as a stomach medicine. The meat is yellow, and has a flavor of its own.

Even the leaves of the trees, which are native to the tropics, are saturated with the vegetable papain. The trees bear continuously, but do not flourish in this section. The melons now are selling for 75 cents a pound in Los Angeles, but are not grown commercially in this section, with the exception of one grower in the southern part of the state who is attempting to raise them commercially in a greenhouse and outside on trees covered with canvas, he said.

Grigsby's hobby is the growing of plants and trees of various types. He has extensive land holdings about 300 miles southwest of Mexico City, where he became fond of the papaya melons.

The trees grow rapidly, he said, and reach a height of about 15 feet. They begin bearing when about six feet tall, a height they reach when about a year and a half old.

WALNUT MEN'S FIELD DAY SET FOR APRIL 14

The Inter-county Farm Bureau Walnut department has accepted the invitation of the Orange county group to hold the annual Southern California walnut growers' field day in this county. It was announced today. The invitation was extended by J. A. Smiley, chairman of the Orange County Farm Bureau walnut department, and was unanimously accepted by the delegates from the other southern walnut growing counties at their last meeting.

Saturday, April 14, has been set for the annual field day. Smiley was appointed to head the program committee, which will make arrangements for the speakers and demonstrations of the day. Lee Braucher, field investigator for the California Walnut Growers' association, and Harold E. Wahlberg, farm adviser, Orange county, are other members of this special committee.

D. S. Halladay, secretary of the Inter-county department, reports that the morning session of the program will be held in the auditorium of the Fullerton union high school, where industry problems will be presented and discussed. The afternoon session will be held at Placentia, in the Walter Muckenthaler walnut orchard, where observations of new developments in tower spray outfits, harvesting towers, spray and dust machinery will be staged.

It is anticipated that several hundred growers will take advantage of the demonstrations and timely discussions.

Subjects included on the program include efficient pest control, irrigation for quality production, crop loans and recent improvement in orchard equipment.

'Profiteers' Topic For Forum Here

Reopening of the People's Forum at new headquarters at Sixth and French streets was announced for tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

Harry S. Gerhart, founder of the People's Forum, will speak during the first hour on the subject, "How Profiteers Have Corrupted Scientific, Educational and Religious Institutions."

The second hour of the forum will be a lecture, the first of a series, on the subject, "Man and the Universe." The lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic slides. The lecture is a symposium of science, religion and philosophy, and their relation to society, government and economics. There is no charge and the public is invited to attend.

MANY CHANGES DEVELOP IN H.S. CLASS PLAY

An ex-soldier turns out to be a highly-educated scientist, a battling family returns to a policy of general amnesty, and a 16-year-old girl falls in love with a man 10 years her senior, all in the four-act play "Clarence" to be presented by the Santa Ana high school senior class Friday and Saturday evenings, March 23 and 24, at the Willard auditorium.

"Clarence" is a comedy written by Booth Tarkington in 1919, and first produced in the Hudson theater in New York in 1920.

The climactic incident in the play is said to be when Clarence, played by Lawrence Nowlan, reveals his identity as an entomologist, an eminent authority on insects. He marries the beautiful governess, Violet, played by Margaret Sawyer.

Burdie Sharon portrays a comical part as Dintindle, the butler, and his scene with Louise Rowland, as Della, the maid, is one of the bright spots of the show.

The senior play is said to be one of the highlights of the school year, and is under the direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips.

Dinner
Thin tomato cream soup, 1 cup.
1 thick mutton chop, broiled
12 stalks fresh asparagus
1 tsp. butter-lemon dressing
1/4 slice dry toast for asparagus
Salad:
1/4 heart lettuce
2 tbsps. mineral oil mayonnaise mixed with 1 tbsps. cottage cheese
Black coffee or tea.
Calory total 575.

Make the tomato soup this way: rub a can of tomatoes through a sieve, heat and season the liquid, add a tiny pinch of soda and draw off the fire. Scald a quantity of skimmed milk, combine the two, add chopped parsley and a dash of onion salt. The diet portion takes this soup "as is." The family get a spoonful of whipped cream in theirs.

Mutton, when not too old, is just about the best thing you can buy when you want a real thick, juicy chop. Have your butcher cut the chops 1 1/2 inches thick. Trim off the fat, brush them with a little French dressing, place on the broiler grid and broil them about 20 minutes.

My preference for broiling uses a shallow pan, so that the juices are not lost. Then, when the chops are half done, I like to slip tiny whole tomatoes between them and let them broil along with the chops. The combined flavors are certainly sumptuous!

Bake potatoes as long as the oven must be heated for broiling. And, some kind of a pudding or pie, could be cooked for the family dessert. The family gets the same salad, but not the diet mayonnaise, unless some one is suffering with constipation.

Salt and pepper.
This recipe is used by a friend whose son is suffering from anaemia, so she has to be sufficiently versatile to ring many changes with her ally, liver.

Buy the liver in one piece, wash in cold water, then scald it to seal the juices. Dredge the piece with flour, salt and pepper and put it in a casserole, rubbed with butter. Slice the onions around, and over the liver, lay the strips of bacon across the liver and start the cooking in a very hot oven, for ten minutes.

After the preliminary cooking, add the sour cream, reduce the heat and finish baking—30 minutes this time. Taste the liver, with the cream occasionally, and if the bacon shows signs of crisping and burning, remove it, but put it back before the liver is served.

This amount serves four, and the individual calory total runs around 900 with many energy calories in evidence. No wonder liver is used for anaemia!

Travel Talk Follows Ebell Section Luncheon

Recently returned from a several months' trip around the world, Mrs. Charles Drutt gave an interesting talk on her travels at the March meeting of the Ebell Sixth Household Economics section held Friday in the clubhouse.

Luncheon served at tables decorated in green and white preceded the program. Hostesses were Mesdames J. E. Gowen, Fred Zaiser and B. H. Sharpless. A gold and green harp provided a St. Patrick's background for the occasion, and the menu itself furthered an Irish theme.

Mrs. Jennie Peek was admitted as a new member of the section. Business of the afternoon was conducted by Mrs. S. W. Stanley, secretary, in the absence of Mrs. G. E. Bruns, leader.

The next meeting is to be held Friday, April 20, at 12:30 p. m. in the clubhouse.

Art Association Head Addresses Members Of Woman's Club

An unusually large attendance of club members and their guests at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Santa Ana Woman's Club in the Y. M. C. A., expressed interest aroused by the announcement that Louis A. Danz of Anaheim, president of Laguna Beach Art association, was to be introduced as speaker.

Proceeding the general club meeting was an interesting hour devoted to discussion of woman's part in national life at a Study section meeting directed by Mrs. A. G. Green. This was introduced by Mrs. William Whitehead, who spoke of the prominent place occupied by Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. She told of Mrs. Poole's recent trip to Europe in the interests of American clubwomen, and of the courtesy paid her by Europeans.

Mrs. R. A. McMahon gave an interesting glimpse of the "First Lady of the Land," Eleanor Roosevelt, and her warm and friendly interest in national affairs and the welfare of women and children. Mrs. G. O. Goodwin had Ruth Bryan Owens as her subject for a short sketch. Mrs. Herbert Johnson discussed Frances Perkins, Mrs. G. N. Conn took Jane Addams of Hull House as her subject, and Mrs. Green closed the session with references to various prominent women including Mary Woolley and Anne Morrow Lindbergh.

Mrs. W. M. Wells, president, conducted the club meeting proper, which included musical numbers as a prelude to the address. Miss Leonora Tompkins played "Rhapsody in C Major" and Liszt's "A Forgotten Waltz."

Mrs. James McCracken, county federation chairman of art and literature, prefaced her introduction of the guest speaker, by calling attention to current exhibitions of interest, citing especially the Kress collection at Los Angeles museum, to close Saturday. "Modern Art" was the general subject of the talk presented by Mr. Danz, who gave the clubwomen a great deal to think about and to apply in their consideration of work both of artists of an older day and of the revolutionary modernists.

Giving full value to works of the older school, the speaker declared that art of the present is an expression of modern life and of phases of life that did not exist in the days of the "Old Masters"; that the world is going ahead, and those who do not wish to progress with it, must be left behind. He spoke of the pronounced increase in technical efficiency but a lagging behind in matters of art, so that examples of modern artists seem revolutionary to a mind trained to accept the work of the old school. Declaring that this is the day of Freud and not of Socrates, he emphasized the need of finding a definite American art. Emotional expression and episodic arrangement of ideas, he declared were two different currents that must be brought together to achieve this distinctive art.

"There are no national boundaries strong enough to hold art within one country," he pointed out, citing among other interesting examples, the world appeal of Diego Rivera and other contemporary Mexican artists.

Sorority Observes Founders' Day

Pi Theta Chi sorority members of this city observed founders' day Saturday, holding a theater party and then going to the home of their advisor, Miss Lorene Shippe, 633 North Van Ness avenue, for a pleasant refreshment hour. Guests were seated at a large table whose green and white appointments included nuptials and an appropriate centerpiece. Sharing the affair with Miss Shippe were the Misses Carol Smith, Winifred Schneider, Mary Louise Niedergall, Charlene Kye, Lucille Crawford, Grace Middlebrook, Betty Niedergall, Ruth Souther, Mary Alice White and Dorothy Johnson.

Santa Ana Club Joins With Covina in Celebration

Santa Ana Wrycende Maegden club members of the Y. W. C. A. went to Covina last night to join with Business Girls of that city in the seventh annual nation-wide observance. Throughout this county and in other nations as well, 95,000 girls belonging to Y. W. C. A. clubs were holding similar celebrations.

Santa Ana club members going to Covina included the Misses Dorothy Dresser, Louise Bryant, Eva Deane Caskey, Beulah Dudgeon, Mary Ford, Marion Johnson, Hazel Lee, Wilma Hoy, Eva Lieberg, Dorothy Lutz, Frances Roberg, Katherine Spicer, Catherine Walbridge, Hattie Belle Wall, Irene West, Valera Dexte, Roma Mayes and Nancy Elder.

The affair took place in Covina Women's clubhouse. After-dinner speaker was the Rev. Shirley Shaw of Ontario, talking on "The Growth of the Individual," in line with the general theme for the nation wide observance, "These Things Shall Be."

According to Miss Gladys Doherty of Providence, R. I., who is president of the National Council of Business and Professional Women, the idea of business girls meeting in large group on the same day with a common purpose has so appealed to Y. W. C. A. members in other countries that the observance has become almost world wide. She pointed out that clubs in Syria, China, India, Japan, the Philippines and Canada are joining in tonight's celebration.

Birthday Anniversary Inspires Luncheon Surprise

Although Mrs. J. B. Kester was aware that she was to lunch on Saturday with Mrs. W. W. Kays at The Corner House, she remained in complete ignorance of the celebration of her birthday anniversary until arrival at the delightful little tea room disclosed the fact that a party of her friends had planned a happy affair in her honor.

It was only natural that St. Patrick's appointments should distinguish the table where luncheon was served, and that green candies should sparkle on the birthday cake served with the dessert. Shamrock tallies were distributed for bridge which was introduced after luncheon. Mrs. Edmund Snow made high score and was appropriately rewarded, with consolation gift presented Miss Mary Thompson. At the same time a pretty guest prize was given Mrs. Kester.

Sharing the friendly affair, plans for which were perfected by Mrs. W. A. Kays and Mrs. Herbert Krahling, were Mrs. Kester, Mrs. C. A. Westgate, Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, Mrs. A. Thorndike, Miss Mary Thompson, Mrs. George L. Wright, Mrs. Krahling and Mrs. Kays.

Church Societies

Musical Tea

First Methodist Dorcas Choral club held a delightful observance of St. Patrick's day, entertaining Friday afternoon in the church with a musical tea.

The program was opened as the club chorus sang "Oh, Irish Hills." Mesdames Charles Fox, W. A. Davidson, M. R. Daughters, Jack Snow and Miss Mary Catherine Freeman, wearing colorful Irish costumes, formed a quintet, singing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "The Old Spinning Wheel."

Mrs. Harry Hayes, director of the group, also appropriately costumed, gave vocal solos, "Top 'O the Mornin' to You," "Where the River Shannon Flows" and "You'd Better Believe in Lullabie," dressed as an old-fashioned spinster.

Wearing kyspy costumes, a quintet composed of Mesdames Delbert Lewis, W. J. Sebastian, Jack Snow, Benjamin F. Hein and Miss Mary Catherine Freeman, sang "Gypsy Love Song." Mrs. Fred Hein appeared as a Negro mammy for her solo, "River Stay Way from My Door." She was joined by Mrs. Jeannette Smith in singing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

The afternoon was brought to a pleasant close with the serving of tea at small tables brightened with pastel hued blossoms. Miss Mary Lamb was table chairman and Mrs. Jack Snow and Miss Freeman had charge of refreshments.

Three Ebell Sections Join in Presenting Fine Program

It was a most interesting hospitality which was extended yesterday afternoon in Ebell clubhouse, where three important sections of Ebell society, First Book Review, Modern Literature, and Music, Art and Drama, entertained at a play review and tea.

An unusually large number of guests accepted invitation to this event, which featured Mona Sumner Smith (Mrs. Harvey Smith) in a review of the successful Maxfield Anderson play, "Mary of Scotland." Leaders of the three sections, Mrs. Loyal King, Book Review; Mrs. George Dunton, Modern Literature, and Mrs. Charles Drutt, Music, Art and Drama, received the guests, and Mrs. King presided over the opening session and introduced Mrs. Smith.

The presentation of the review was an unusually fine one, in which Mrs. Smith analyzed the production act by act, making her audience aware of the salient points that go to make it one of the outstanding successes of that recent theater world. It is the present vehicle for Helen Hayes' dramatic talents.

There were various announcements made of forthcoming section meetings, and Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, speaking for Music, Art and Drama section, told of the pleasurable anticipations of that group in regard to hearing some of Mrs. Drutt's travel experiences. The leader has just returned from a half year's cruise to the Orient, Africa and South America.

Lingering to discuss the delightful manner in which the play had been reviewed, clubwomen enjoyed the tea menu served from tables beautifully appointed with Italian linens, silver and flickering candles whose happy hues matched those of the flowers used. Mrs. Drutt, Mrs. Dunton and Mrs. King poured and serving was accomplished by members of the hostess committee functioning from the three sections, Mesdames Harry Matthews, Jessie Smith, John Cloyes, Victor Montgomery, Ellis Diehl, C. F. Crose, Roland P. Yeagle, J. C. Metzgar and Dr. Hester Oewiler.

WIDENING OF RIVER STREET AUTHORIZED BY CITY COUNCIL

ORANGE, March 21.—City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake and City Attorney H. L. Dearing were instructed at a special meeting of the city council yesterday to make preparations for the widening of River avenue from Glassell street to the city park. The widening will be effected by setting back the curbing four and a half feet and the two officials were advised to contact property owners to obtain their consent to the proceedings. Mayor Clyde Watson presided.

The improvement it is estimated will cost about $1500 and bids on the work are to be opened at an adjourned meeting to be held March 27. The roadway is to be surfaced with asphaltic oil and is to be macadamized. It is estimated 30 tons of gravel and 4000 gallons of oil will be required. The surfacing will cover 35,000 square feet and about 2000 feet of curb will be built. The work will be done with money from the state gasoline tax.

but these others had not learned to know Ted as she knew him.

If his voice had been silenced a few hours sooner Marcia would have had her earlier vision of him to believe in all her life. As it was, she would always see him and hear his reply to her frank offer to go away with him. Jeffries had evaded clumsily with wisdom remarks about a man's duty to civilization, his duty to his wife and his duty to protect Marcia against herself.

Utter cad he had been, Marcia knew now, and a weak one. For the first time she was sorry for Therese Jeffries because Therese too must have learned long ago how weak her husband was.

Marcia thought then of the boy called Pablo and her heart missed and a beat. She did not want to think of the boy called Pablo. She thought, moistening her lips, "After all, he must have done something that made him run away!" She tried to shape this fact into an excuse for her own silence.

It was a horrible burden, this feeling of a young life at her mercy, in the palm of her soft, weak hand.

At first it had "most unnerved her. Field, told by a frightened servant what had happened, had hurried toward Jeffries' room declaring, "I know who did it!"

Marcia had followed, thinking to tell him that she in some measure knew who did it. That far she had been swayed from thoughts of self by the shock. But just when she was at the point of saying, "I saw it! I was with Jeffries and hid when I heard the footsteps. I saw the man's back; he was short and thick-set and dark-haired—" just at this point Marcia remembered that if she said this she would be marked all the rest of her life by her confession.

Now they were saying the boy called Pablo was the murderer. The boy all the women liked, the boy who had such a good voice and such charming manners.

"He ran away from something!" Marcia reminded herself, realizing the thought did not help her.

Suddenly she knew she could not endure solitude another moment. Marcia descended the two steps and hurried down the beach toward the men who were talking with Jim Field.

'HIGH AND LOW ROAD' TOPIC AT 'Y' GATHERING

ORANGE, March 21.—Dwight Welch, Y. M. C. A. secretary of Monrovia, was the principal speaker at a meeting of Hi-Y chapters of the Orange "Y" at the First Presbyterian church last night when members of Eagle chapter No. 2, with R. M. Warren as the advisor, were hosts to the other groups.

Welch preceded his talk with a number of feats of magic and then spoke from the subject, "The High Road and the Low Road." He told of the importance of the choice of the right road in a boy's life and the results which might be expected in the choice of the two roads.

Gene Morris, young Negro singer of Anaheim, entertained with several melodies and Raymond McCall of the Young Men's division of the "Y" played violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Warren.

Monti Griffith, president of Eagle chapter, presided and acted as program chairman and mothers of boys of this group served the 6:30 o'clock dinner, with Mrs. J. T. McInnes heading the dinner committee.

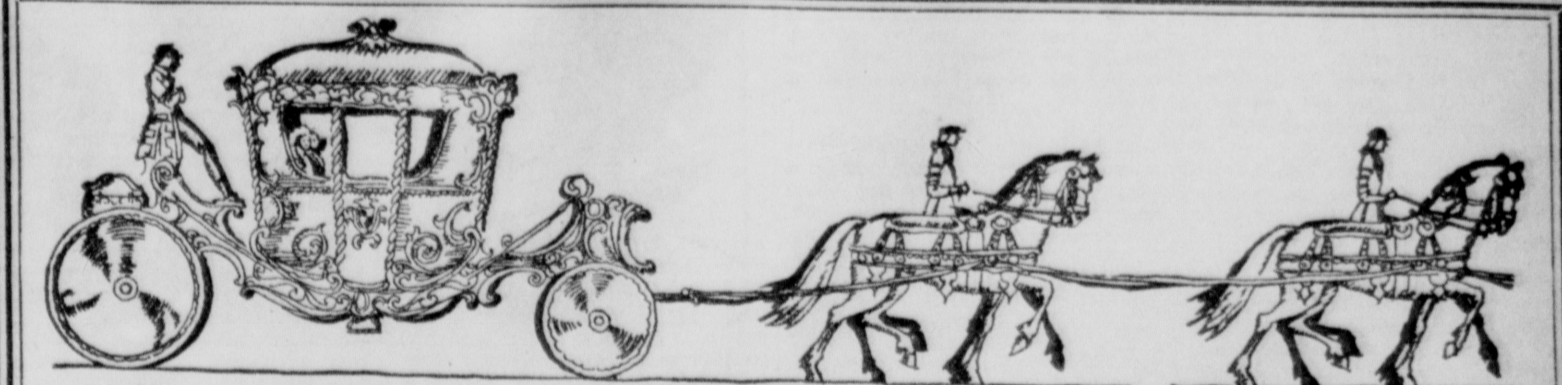

Boys responsible for arrangements for the affair were Monty Griffith, George Griffith, Charles Deaver, Charles Robinson, George Linnert, Enslay Wood, Bob Paul, Donald Smiley, Walter Lechtuss, Bob Clark, Vernon Tibbets, Philip Herrington, Roger Doncaster and Leslie Valentine.

Senior Class In Graduation Plans

ORANGE, March 21.—Short meetings of the junior, senior and post graduate classes of the Orange Union High school were held Tuesday afternoon at period "A." Graduation plans were discussed by the senior class, which appointed Miss Irma Mueller and Harold Davis as hear of a committee to select the type of commencement clothes to be worn by 1934 graduates.

The annual junior and senior party was discussed at the junior class meeting. In place of the usual banquet given for the two upper classes at the end of the year, a new idea is being considered, the plans for which will be completed by a committee in charge of Miss Luberta Morgan. Two modern plan numbers, "Coffee in the Morning," and "Three Little Pigs" were played by Miss Jos Green.

Art lovers, art students, anybody at all interested in art, will probably never again have an opportunity to view so many fine collections of paintings with one trip to town as during the next two weeks. At the Exposition Park Museum there are the Public Work of Art Project exhibition, the Kress collection of Italian paintings, and the International Printmakers' exhibition; at the Eagan Art Gallery "Smoketree" George Fredrick has a one-man show of his incomparable desert paintings and desert characters; at Barker Bros., Stendahl and other Los Angeles Galleries there are new exhibitions, and in Pasadena, at the Nicholson Gallery several artists' work is being shown, including Thomas Moran. Any one of these exhibitions is worth the trip to town.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

THE TINYMITES

Of course the Tinies didn't know where Duncy was but Nick said, "Oh, we'll find the lad before I'm through, unless my plan falls flat." He kept on running through the trees till Doty panted, "Tell us, please, just where you're going. Goodness sakes, why do you run like that?"

"Well," answered Nick, "I'm going to find some little fellows who'll be kind, and help us locate Duncy. There is no time to be lost."

"The lad may get into a mess. He'll gladly welcome us, I guess. We're going to save him from that big h'oon bird, at any cost."

"Be patient for a little while. We'll run about a half a mile and then you'll see a real strange camp, with tents in nice, long rows."

"I'll get a bugle when we're there, and blow some notes into the air. A very strange thing happens every time the bugle blows."

It wasn't long till Goldy said, "I see the camp. It's just ahead." And, when they raced up to it, Scouty said "There's no one here."

"Oh, yes there is," replied old Nick. "Just wait until I pull my trick. Stay here! I'll get the bugle. There is not a thing to fear."

"All right," replied the kind old man. "Blow any little tune you can. 'Twill bring from all those tents, some soldiers you'll be glad to know."

Brave Scouty blew with all his might. The Tinies shortly saw a sight that gave them quite a thrill. From every tent wee soldiers came.

"Those fighting lads are ants," said Nick. "Say, don't their uniforms look slick? They'll help us rescue Duncy, and you'll find that they are game."

THE "TRADES DISPUTE ACT"

Just at this time there is considerable interest in the Wagner bill, or what is commonly spoken of as the "Trades Dispute act." As the American Federation of Labor is being charged with desiring to dictate to the automobile industry, there is the charge being made that the Wagner bill forces the recognition of the American Federation of Labor upon employers, wherever the employees desire to have this done.

This is not true in the Wagner bill, but it does permit the employees to designate a labor organization as their representatives instead of individuals. This would permit, of course, someone at the head of the labor organization to designate the representatives, instead of the ones who are vitally interested. It is a very elaborately worked-out measure, defining the privileges, rights and obligations of both the employee and the employer.

If it is the deliberate purpose of the administration to organize all employees and all employers, and to have them in separate camps, and to attempt to work out a program for justice in the distribution of the products of industry between the employee and the employer, this organization would be fairly well suited to that end. But the difficulty with it is that it does not provide for the power to rest with the court, or an administrator appointed by the government, but really protects or suggests the very means of contest and war, which have been so common in the program of the differences between capital and labor. In order to have an intelligent grasp of the Wagner bill, in its analysis, it is declared:

1. It permits employee to designate a labor organization as their representatives instead of individuals.
2. It includes a lock-out as one of the means of interference or coercion of employers.
3. It requires the employer to recognize the representatives and make a reasonable effort to reach an agreement with them.
4. It forbids employers to supervise or participate in or finance any employees' labor organization, or compensate anyone for services in such labor organization.
5. It abrogates any contract contrary to the act, and requires employers to immediately notify employees of such abrogation.
6. In the discriminatory practices forbidden, it includes "advancements, demotion, hire, reinstatement," etc.
7. It forbids an employer to exclude union men, but permits agreements providing that a person seeking employment must join a labor union, that is, agreements for the closed shop.
8. The information or complaint may come from any source at all, and the labor board does not have to say how it gets its information.
9. The board may go into the federal courts or the supreme court of the District of Columbia to enforce its findings.
10. Fact findings by the board are conclusive.
11. The labor board may hold an election whenever it sees fit.
12. Any member of the board or an agent of the board may demand papers and records.
13. Other departments of the federal government have to turn over records on request; for example, income tax returns or federal trade reports.
14. It defines employees as those who are on strike, or have been put out by unfair practices, and so as not to include men who have replaced striking employees.
15. Its provisions about the orders of the board are as follows: "The board may require such persons to cease or desist from such unfair labor practice, or to take affirmative action, or to pay damages, or to re-instate employees, or to perform any other act that will achieve substantial justice."
16. It provides a $5,000 fine for anyone who "resists, prevents or impedes" any member of the board in the performance of his duties.

It was originally planned through the NRA, that each industry should govern itself, and lay down its own code and rules for administration. The idea underlying that was that the government, through one means or another, would see to it that a sufficient price was received for the article produced or grown, so as to give an adequate wage and an adequate return upon capital, as directed by this group.

This is rather lost sight of in this last act. For it would appear to substitute for a general program, in which return will be assured that it will be adequate, and peaceful means used to arrive at the result, a plan for powerful labor or wage-earning groups to really make demands for that which they consider their due, regardless of what shall happen as a result. Instead of national planning being conducted, on a reasonable and rational basis, it is to be conducted as an armed camp with the power of a court-martial on those who fail to obey its rules.

AUTOMOBILE STRIKE POSTPONED

We are glad to note that the automobile strike was at least postponed. The president intervened, as we believed he would, at the last moment, and the strike was averted. There could be no other reasonable procedure.

As we pointed out a day or two ago, if the NRA is valid; if the power rests with the government; if the men are not being justly treated, or if the company is not being justly treated, certainly the government, which has intervened in so many directions, should have it corrected. Not only should either the men or the company not be compelled to go into warfare, for the purpose of obtaining their rights or to protect their rights, but they should not be permitted to do so. For it is not simply the interest of these men that is at stake, nor the interest of these automobile industrialists that is at stake, but the welfare of society, the interest of our whole nation.

"No man is living unto himself alone" now. A strike in an automobile plant in Detroit affects the amount an orange grower receives for his oranges in California. This may mean an economic life or death to him. And this is only an illustration of its entire ramifications.

While it may be possible that the government cannot compel a worker to work at a particular rate of wages, yet if the government is going to compel the manufacturer to observe a certain scale in order to get a license to do business, it ought to have the same control over the worker, so that he shall be denied a license to labor unless he conforms to the program. Certainly what is "sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

As to whether it is wise for the government to go this far is beside the question. The government has already gone this far in the regulations and restrictions it has placed upon business. There is no logical place to stop. Industrial peace is a necessary requisite for the public good. That it must be peace with justice is an axiom. But determination of what is justice must be lodged somewhere.

With individualism gone, it must rest with the representative of society, the government itself. As much as the president may desire to avoid that responsibility, it is upon him. He cannot dodge it. The answer may suggest elements of a supreme authority. With that supreme authority in the hands of a people, through elections, we may avoid the terrible evils of an autocratic dictatorship. But the power, in the interest of public order, must rest somewhere. This is the only logical place.

STATE RUNNING SHORT OF FUNDS

There is a suggestion that there may be an ad valorem tax of fifty cents per $100 valuation for state needs. This, it is suggested, must be put on by the state board of control. The board of control consists of Ray L. Riley, state controller; Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, and Fred W. Meyer, chief of the state division of service and supply.

Mr. Riley declares that he will never stand for this added "assessment." But the serious matter is that the money is needed. The state government is now registering warrants and this, they expect, will continue until the regular session of the legislature in January.

We called attention at the time that the sales tax was inaugurated, and when a part of the expenses in regard to schools was transferred from the county to the state, that while it might reduce our local taxes temporarily, it would soon be added in another way. This will be brought to pass. You may, by a trick, appear to take "rabbits out of a hat," but the only way to reduce the payment of the costs of government by the people is to reduce the costs of government.

Frequently has it been found that the raising of money "painlessly," without the taxpayer's thinking or full knowledge, does not even help reduce his taxes in other respects, because the officials have found that that much can be added. It is only the rate of taxation and the amount paid in cash direct that seems to raise the disturbance. So, in order that the amount to spend may be increased, other devices are used, under the guise of reducing the ad valorem tax, and after these devices are in full operation, then we go back to the full measure, slowly but surely, to the rate on value.

It is very probable that this will not be put into operation now. But extravagant management in public affairs must be paid for by the taxpayers, just as extravagant management in a corporation's affairs must be paid for out of the stockholders' pockets.

Alaskan Development

Oakland Tribune

Joe Juneau and Richard Harris made their strike on Gold Creek in Alaska fifty-four years ago on August 17 of this year. While on their way from Chilkoot Bay to Sitka, they landed on Gastineau Channel and there the capital of Alaska is today.

The Daily Alaska Empire has published a development edition, with the figures of what has taken place in the Territory, pictures of men and places, and dramatic stories of the old and new life. It says, among other things, "no part of the United States and its possessions is less understood than southeast Alaska, where contrary to general belief, in the States, there are mild climate, modern living conditions and transportation with the outside."

What Alaska has done interests this western coast, from one end to the other. The Empire shows that the United States has spent in cash $209,599,006 on Alaska since Seward's folly agitated the Nation; in that period the Federal Treasury has collected $32,500,000 from the Territory and Alaska has bought merchandise priced at $924,704,196 from the United States and supplied to it products scheduled at $1,690,575,094. This figures out a balance in favor of Alaska amounting to $2,467,780,284. In nine years ended with 1932 Alaska bought 2917 passenger automobiles for $2,536,117, dynamite to the amount of 21,027,769 pounds for $2,734,101 and 9,104,908 pounds of soap for $1,029,149. These figures give an idea of its trade.

Governor John W. Troy—from January, 1914, until his appointment as Chief Executive in April, 1933, who was editor and publisher of the Empire—has been strengthened by official experience in his lifelong conviction that "wherever possible Alaska should govern herself; her laws should be made by her own Legislature and executed by her own officials."

The development edition of the Empire puts before readers the attractions of a marvellously enticing land and is one which will stimulate tourist trade to the North.

Flying Ambassador Will Make Tour of Russia

Riverside Enterprise

Something new in diplomatic equipment is on its way to Moscow. Part of the official baggage of William C. Bullitt, first United States ambassador to the Union of Soviet Republics, is a small army observation plane. Bullitt plans, it is said, to fly to all parts of Russia in order to become familiar with the whole country. If he carries out present intentions he may become known as the first "flying ambassador."

The idea is said to have been suggested by Bullitt himself when Bullitt presented his credentials several months ago. The Russian official expressed the hope that the new ambassador would "see a lot of our country." The American said he would see to, but added that the country in question was more nearly a whole continent and would take a good deal of seeing. To which the Russian replied, "Why don't you buy a plane?"

Automobiles for ambassadors and other officials have long since been taken for granted. Why not airplanes as well?

More Truth Than Poetry

THE UNKNOWN PAINTER

When the nights grow keen and chilly
And there's just a touch of sheet,
When the wind howls, wild and nilly,
'Round the corner of the street,
As the sunset's rays grow fainter
While the twilight hours pass
Comes a jolly little painter
Making pictures on the glass.

Pictures of enchanted regions
Far remote from mortal ken,
Where were people troup in legions
Over many a quiet scene,
Curious shrubs and gleaming flowers,
With their branches tempest-tossed,
And unearthly tangled bowers
Picked out daintily in frost.

No one ever saw him working,
He evades the mortal eye,
But I know that he is lurking
Yonder somewhere in the sky,
With his fingers firm and steady
While the morning's gloaming wanes,
Standing there, alert and ready,
To make etchings on the panes.

And, when dawns a winter morning,
And the children wake to see
Shining silken threads adorning
Every frost-created tree,
Till the scene is rent asunder
As the sun shines cold and clear
Children cry with eager wonder,
"Look, the frost man has been here!"

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ARE THESE NEW DEAL FALLACIES?

Yesterday I listed 11 charges against the New Deal in my recent volume on "The Menace of Recovery," in which he makes a sweeping attack on the whole round of Roosevelt policies.

Today I list 12 principles which Mr. MacDonald considers fallacies underlying the New Deal program.

(1) It is a fallacy to assume that the law of supply and demand can be repealed by legislation.

(2) It is a fallacy to assume that the depression can be dispensed by artificial and forcible attempts to raise the general price level.

(3) It is a fallacy to assume that wage increases fill increase purchasing power if commodity prices are also jacked up.

(4) It is a fallacy to assume that business and industrial revival can be achieved by compelling employers to pay more wages for less work or to take on more employees than they actually need.

(5) It is a fallacy to assume that debt and economic order can be coped with constructively by spending more money, piling up more debt, and raising more taxes.

(6) It is a fallacy to assume that the production problem can be solved by paying farmers to produce less.

(7) It is a fallacy to assume that the consumption of food can be increased by taxing food products for the farmer's benefit.

(8) It is a fallacy to assume that social justice can be advanced by restricting production while millions are in want.

(9) It is a fallacy to assume that disaster can be avoided if we put the whole problem of the use of new capital and new machinery at the mercy of political decision.

(10) It is a fallacy to assume that we can build a stable and effective economic structure with tax-free government agencies thrown into competition with private enterprise.

(11) It is a fallacy to assume that political price-fixing is a workable policy.

Mr. MacDonald calls these fallacies. As he states them they do sound fallacious. But it is not all quite as simple as Mr. MacDonald makes it seem. I shall later consider these alleged fallacies.

HE DOESN'T WANT TO

"We are having trouble with Henry. He doesn't seem to be able to get along in school. The teachers say he is bright enough but he failed last term and the term before so we are getting worried. What can we do to get him to work hard enough to be promoted?"

"Is he well? Are his eyes and ears good? His nose and throat all right? Does he sleep and eat well? Does he play with other boys?"

"Oh, yes. He is a perfectly healthy boy. Not a thing the matter with him. We have had him examined every year just to make certain and there is never anything wrong. Even when he had the measles and such things he was never very sick. Just a little temperature and then away again. He just doesn't seem to want to work."

Perfectly healthy and did not want to work? That seemed incredible to me. I looked Henry over carefully. I watched him for a few months and I discovered that Henry worked hard when he was doing something that he liked to do but he melted out of sight just as soon as the job was one of his discards. His mother was right. He just didn't seem to want to. At last I spoke to Henry about it.

"Henry, how long are you going to stay in the fifth grade?"

"I don't know. The teacher won't promote me."

"Do you want to go to high school, or college, or what? You can't stay forever in the fifth grade. You will be getting a mustache soon and they aren't stylish in the fifth grade. What are you planning to do when you are old enough?"

"I don't know."

So there was Henry comfortably seated in the fifth grade, everybody working to push him through while he sat easily in his bench thinking about the ball game, the swimming race, the next movie, what was going to be on the table for dessert tonight. Henry was enjoying life just as it was. He had no incentive to work.

"Why don't you make Henry get to work? Why don't you tell him that he will get no dinner until his lessons for the next day are all prepared? Why don't you give him a job about the house and see that he does it? He can sweep the garage as well as his father can. He can trim the grass along the walk. He can polish the doorknobs and the silver and keep the cellar clean. Why don't you make him do his share of the work when you know he is perfectly able to do it and that he needs the discipline of a daily job?"

"But he doesn't want to do anything. He makes such a fuss that I'd rather do it all myself than begin with him."

"That is why Henry is sitting in the fifth grade. Nobody has ever told him that he had to do something and proved it to him. If you can't make him do anything it would be wise to send him to a good school for boys. He will not get any further now until he understands that there is such a thing as necessity in this life."

Ailing children must be helped. Spoiled children must be helped, too, and healthy discipline is their salvation.
